REACHES A CRUCIAL POINT IN TESTIMONY

Mrs. Bradley's Narrative is Brought Down to the Actual Deed of Killing Paramour.

MASS OF LETTERS PUT IN THE EVIDENCE

Washington, Nov. 20.—When criminal court No. 1, in which Mrs. Bradley is on the witness stand in her trial for killing Senator Brown, took its usual noon recess the witness had just reached the point at which the tragedy occurred.

The greater part of the forenoon was devoted to the examination and identification of a large number of letters written by Mr. Brown and Mrs. Bradley to each other.

Mrs. Bradley read many of her own letters deliberately, the reading of which caused the proceedings to drag somewhat. The letters were not read to the jury. She contradicted the testimony of Witness Kelly in many particulars.

WOMAN STILL ON THE STAND.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The climax of the Bradley trial was reached today when Mrs. Bradley, testifying in her own behalf, related the particulars of her final interview with former Senator Brown in the Raleigh hotel in this city last December and gave all the details she could remember of the shooting which followed. She was prompt in entering the court room, and if any one had believed that yesterday's ordeal would render her unfit to proceed with her narrative it must soon have become evident to such persons that he had not taken into account the reserve power of the woman.

Did Not Look Buoyant.

She did not look very buoyant; but she never does, and it cannot be said that there was much change in her appearance. She had yesterday related practically all of the details of her life with Brown during nine years and it was understood that after a few preliminary statements concerning the time just preceding the entrance of both parties to the tragedy in Washington she would be led up to that affair and asked as the only possible witness to tell the story.

"We shall be brief," said Judge Powers, her Salt Lake attorney, "in dealing with this phase of the case." He said that not more than an hour's time would be necessary to complete the recital. District Attorney Baker thought the cross-examination would consume three hours. The court room was again crowded and more were denied admission for lack of acommodations.

Letters Make Her Weep.

Judge Stafford had no sooner taken his seat than Mrs. Bradley resumed her place in the witness chair. She was first asked to identify a number of letters written her at different times by Senator Brown and did so. There were so many of these documents that forty-five minutes were consumed in the mere exhibition of them. They covered the time from 1901 to 1906, and were presented for the purpose of showing the relations between Mrs. Bradley and Mr. Brown, but no effort was made to read them as they were introduced. It was evident that the sight of the letters aroused conflicting memories in the witness, for she sobbed audibly as many of them were presented to her.

Many of her replies to questions were again in an indistinct tone of voice, and the stenographer was compelled to repeat many of her statements for the benefit of the jury.

Woman's Letters Produced.

There were more than one hundred of the letters and when their presentation had concluded Judge Powers said that some of them would be read to the jury at a later date. He then called upon the prosecuting attorney to produce letters in his possession written to Brown by Mrs. Bradley, which was done. There were not so many of these letters as of Brown's, but they covered the same period of time. The witness took time to read some of these letters before accepting them, but in each instance replied in quivering, faltering voice, "Yes, I wrote it." The reading of Mrs. Bradley's letters by herself necessarily consumed much time and caused the proceedings to drag in interest. This fact did not, however, deter her and she continued to read deliberately in each case.

Used Cipher Code.

The examination of letters did not develop many interesting facts, but they served to bring out one of the code words used by Senator Brown and Mrs. Bradley. It was "aluminum" written in one of Mrs. Bradley's letters and she said it meant "I love you." Transparent cloth was pasted over the writing of many of the letters.

Former Judge Powers resumed his questioning at the resumption of regular testimony. He took up the relationship of Mrs. Bradley with Senator Brown, where he had left off yesterday, and his first question was devoted to bringing out the facts concerning her stay at Brown's home in the latter part of November, 1906. She said that she had gone to the house on the night of November 19th and remained for five days. She said that she told Brown she had come to return some of his calls. He tried to compel her to go away. "He seemed sort of paralyzed," said the witness, "and said I must not stay there. I said 'I did not say that to you.' I urged him to keep his promise. He said, 'Go away, and he would tell me later what he would do' I said, 'If you don't intend to keep your promises, tell me and I will go away.'"

Upbraided Brown.

She related many interviews during this stay at Brown's house, saying that he did not stay there while she was there, but that she went to his office and upbraided him as a deceiver.

"Did you at any time think of ending your life?" asked Judge Powers.

The reply was in the affirmative, but most of the words were indistinct. "I was in the lowest depths of despair," she said, among other things. She said she had determined to go away and even then he dissuaded her.

"Did you then love him?" asked Mr. Powers.

"Yes," replied the witness.

She said that even as late as November 27th, twelve days before the tragedy, Mr. Brown had asserted that she should not go away, but should remain in Salt Lake and take a house there. At other times he would say he could do nothing for her, and again he would renew his promise of marriage, when they would go to Goldfield, Nevada, to live. "His manner was so variable," she said, "that at one time I was buoyed up and full of hope and at others utterly dejected."

Sick and Despondent.

Approaching the visit to Washington, she said Brown had told her of his intentions to come to this city, but she did not know the exact date. She had become ill December 1st, after learning of the senator's departure, but was in such a state of mind she did not care whether she lived or died. She was unable to sleep at night and had no appetite.

She started for Los Angeles Dec. 4, but when she reached Ogden changed her mind and at that place exchanged her ticket for one to Washington.

Parting of the Ways.

"The impulse to change seized me when I got to Ogden and realized that to be the parting of the ways," she said. She was very ill on the train. "I would get so tired that I could hardly do anything," she said. "I slept very little and ate next to nothing on the train."

In Wyoming the train was detained by a wreck. She could not remember what train she took out of Chicago.

Judge Powers entered immediately then upon the events in Washington. Mrs. Bradley said she had arrived in this city Saturday morning, Dec. 8, after a night in which she had little sleep and several days of almost complete fasting.

"When you reached the city what did you do?"

"I telephoned the Abbott house to know if Senator Brown was there. They said he was not and I went immediately to the Raleigh. I went to the desk and asked if he was there."

No Purpose to Harm Brown.

"Had you formed any purpose before reaching Washington of doing violence to Senator Brown?"

"I had none—had formed none."

She then told of asking at the desk

NONE NOT DEMOCRAT SOUGHT FOR JURY FOR POWERS

Witnesses Testify in the Case to Support Protest of Defense.

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 20.—When the Caleb Powers trial opened this morning the defense introduced over twenty witnesses in support of the motion to set aside the Harrison county venire.

Most of the witnesses were present and the evidence was intended to show that the Scott county deputies were accompanied by deputies of Harrison county on their rounds in selecting the jurors and that republicans were passed over and democrats were almost invariably selected.

The evidence of these witnesses consumed the greater part of the forenoon session.

Before beginning this testimony the court issued an order, on motion of the defense, to have James Howard, now serving a life sentence in the Frankfort penitentiary, brought here to confer with the defendant and counsel relating to certain testimony to be introduced by the defense.

Two of the seven jurors already qualified were excused from jury service on account of illness, leaving only five jurors in the box subject to challenge.

AFTER MANY YEARS EVANS ESTATE SETTLES

Long Litigation Over the Rich Dentist's Property Adjusted.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20.—After litigation extending more than ten years, the affairs of the estate of Dr. Thomas W. Evans, the famous Philadelphia dentist, who died in Paris, where he became a millionaire, have been finally adjusted in the courts of Philadelphia, New York and Paris.

All the papers in the case, including the signatures of the fifty-three heirs to a release of all their claims against the legacy to the "Dr. Thomas W. Evans Museum and Institute society," of this city, were received yesterday by the attorneys for the society.

The society will immediately possess the property in New York, worth more than $1,000,000, and property in Philadelphia valued at $100,000. The residue of the estate in Paris, worth about $800,000, will be distributed among the heirs. At Dr. Evans' death the value of the estate was $4,000,000 to $6,000,000, most of it being in Paris. Numerous claimants soon appeared and becoming dissatisfied brought charges against the executors, especially the three in Paris. A partial settlement was finally made by the distribution of $100,000 among the heirs as an installment of a legacy of $270,000 and a residue of Paris property estimated at about $800,000.

ALABAMA'S DRY LAW IS SENT TO THE GOVERNOR

House Concurs in Senate's Amendments and Measure is to be Effective.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 20.—The Carmichael prohibition bill as it passed the senate yesterday, was approved by the house today by a vote of seventy to four. It will be sent to the governor at once.

The law is effective January 1, 1909 at which time the sale of all liquors except alcohol for medical purposes must cease in the state. A state officer, at a salary of $5,000 a year is to be appointed to enforce the laws.

Dramatic Scene in Senate.

When the bill was called up in the senate yesterday, Senator Hamburger, from the Mobile district, read a telegram he had just received from M. J. McDermott, president of the Bank of Mobile and head of the "Home Rulers" of that city. It was as follows:

"Unless the anti-prohibitionists win today please give notice that Mobile is prepared to secede from the state of Alabama, organize home government, and cease to be dominated by our country cousins whose efforts to paralyze Mobile will not be tolerated."

The senator's words were heard in silence. The vote proceeded and as the result was announced the women began to sing "Praise God, from Whom All Blessings Flow." Instantly the senators rose to their feet and joined in the singing, while the Mobile delegation retreated in haste.

Why Mobile Fought Bill.

The resistance to the measure by the Mobile people arose from the fact that the schools of that city are supported mainly by the saloon licenses. The loss of this revenue, it was contended there, would increase other taxes or cripple the school system.

When it was seen that the prohibition movement was too strong to be stopped, the Mobile people wanted a compromise. The bill as passed in the house set the day for the application of the new law as Oct. 1, 1908. Mobile wanted it changed to Jan. 1, 1910, to change its tax system.

The senate gave the "home rulers" three months, making the law applicable Jan. 1, 1909. The house will accept the amendment, and when this is done Gov. Comer will put his seal of approval on the measure.

All impeachment proceedings have been dropped and are not likely again to be taken up.

DEPOSITORS ENABLE SUSPENDED BANK TO REOPEN

New Concern Closed by a Run Resumes Business on Good Scale.

New York, Nov. 20.—Fortified by the promises of a large proportion of its depositors to allow their deposits to remain in the bank for several months, the Twelfth Ward bank, a state institution which closed during the runs of a few weeks ago, reopened for business today. More than $35,000 was deposited at the main office in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street within the first hour, and large amounts were also deposited at the two branches of the bank. It was stated that the bank had on hand $1,200,000 of the deposits made before the run began and is now in control of Warner VanNorden and interests connected with the VanNorden Trust company.

Goldman Sachs & Co. announced the engagement of $1,500,000 in gold in London today. This brings the total gold engagements on the present movement up to $73,400,000.

DEMAND FOR CERTIFICATES.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The treasury department today received telegraphic advices from the assistant treasurers of the United States at New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New Orleans and San Francisco of the amounts of applications for treasury certificates received by them. DEVICE PERFECTED THAT PICTURES SPEECH

Purdue Professor and Students Complete a Remarkable Invention.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20.—Prof. Arthur Bessey Smith, of the department of telephone engineering at Purdue university, with the assistance of a number of seniors in his department, has perfected an oscillograph which pictures speech, and some interesting experiments are being made by the members of the class. Several different ideas were worked out before a satisfactory device was obtained. The object sought was an instrument that would picture the form of electrical waves both of power electromotive forces and of telephonic talking currents. C. A. Mendenhall and W. E. Adams have completed the construction of the first model of an oscillograph, based on the telephone receiver, and have been very successful in depicting the form of various alternating currents and speech waves.

The experiments in this field have only begun, and greater development is expected soon. The experimenters expect to perfect their instrument until it will respond to the most delicate voice currents.

NEW TERMINAL OPENED.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 20.—The new terminal station of the Evansville Suburban and Newburg Interurban line, costing $25,000 was opened today.

STRIKE PARALYZES RAIL SYSTEM IN INDIA

Second Largest Road of the Empire Tied Up—Aggravates the Famine.

Calcutta, Nov. 20.—Traffic on the East Indian railway, 2,165 miles long and the second largest line in India, is rapidly becoming paralyzed by a strike. The trouble originated with the engineers, who are almost entirely European, and yesterday and today great numbers of natives belonging to the traffic staff joined in the movement. The most important section of the road, from Calcutta to Allahabad, is practically tied up and already 6,000 passengers are stranded at Asansol, Bengal, the junction of the East Indian and Bengal-Nagpur railroad, where the strikers are threatening violence. Reports are constantly coming in of engineers leaving their trains at remote stations and in some cases driving off with their locomotives and leaving the cars.

The Jute mills are seriously affected by the railroad strike. They have been obliged to stop work in consequence of the shortage of coal and it is feared that the tie-up will delay loading outward bound ships.

The strikers complain of overwork and poor pay.

The strike at the present time is especially serious in view of the famine conditions, which are becoming daily more widespread, necessitating the speedy transportation of relief supplies.

MORE OF MANNER IN WHICH WALSH GRABBED

More Funds Shown to Have Been Juggled for His Big Enterprises.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—National Bank Examiner Edward P. Moxey was again on the stand when the trial of John R. Walsh, president of the defunct Chicago National bank, was resumed in Judge A. B. Anderson's court today. Tracing by Mr. Moxey of alleged jugglings of the bank's funds, which have been a feature of the past two days of the trial, was continued.

The transactions told about today was a bond purchase by the Chicago National bank on Dec. 28, 1904. From the bond journal of the bank Mr. Moxey showed that on that date a purchase of $125,000 worth of Mount Olive and Staunton, Cal. company 6 per cent bonds was negotiated at par, the amount paid being $125,000. By means of the bank's interest book Mr. Moxey showed the interest on this item to be $1,812.50, making the proceeds $126,812.50.

This, it was shown by a bond department check and a deposit slip to have been deposited to Mr. Walsh's personal account. An individual journal showed $50,000 to have been withdrawn on the same day by Mr. Walsh on a counter check while the cash book of the Southern Indiana Railroad company showed a similar amount as having been received the same day by the railroad company from Mr. Walsh.

The next transaction traced showed the first transfer of funds to the Equitable Trust company, which resulted from the purchase of Southern Indiana Railway company bonds.

The Progress of $190,000 Item.

Beginning with the bond journal of the Chicago National bank for 1905 Mr. Moxey showed therein an entry of $190,000 under date of January 12. The entry showed, according to the witness, that the bond purchase was in three parts, consisting of items of $158,000, $14,000 and $28,000; including interest of $3,577.78 the total amount of $193,777.88. This amount Mr. Moxey showed had been deposited to Mr. Walsh's personal account in the Chicago National bank. On the same day it was shown $190,000 was withdrawn by Mr. Walsh on a counter check. In the cash books of the Equitable Trust company Mr. Moxey traced under date of January 12, 1905, an entry of $190,000 in the receipt column.

The entry in the cash book showed that $190,000 had been received by the Equitable Trust company from Mr. Walsh on account of collateral surrendered. A deposit slip and the individual ledger containing the trust company's account in the Chicago National bank showed that the $190,000 had been deposited to the account of the trust company. Previous to this transaction, according to the testimony, both the accounts of Mr. Walsh and of the trust company in the Chicago National bank had been overdrawn.

JEALOUS, SLAYS HER SLEEPING HUSBAND

Mrs. Hitchcock Killed Her Helpless Spouse Because He Was Attentive to Another Woman.

SHOOTS SELF SEVERAL TIMES, BUT LIVES

New York, Nov. 20.—Half crazed by jealousy because of her husband's attentions to another woman, Mrs. Lottie Hitchcock shot and killed her husband, Robert L. Hitchcock, a compositor, as he lay sleeping in bed in their home in the borough of the Bronx today. Then, turning the revolver upon herself, Mrs. Hitchcock inflicted several wounds in her head and breast from which it is expected she will die.

The man and woman were married about a year ago. Recently they have had frequent quarrels and Mrs. Hitchcock has repeatedly complained to her neighbors that her husband has been spending his evenings with another woman when not at work. Hitchcock returned from work at 4 a. m. today and went to bed. While he was sleeping his wife arose, placed the muzzle of a revolver to his breast and sent two bullets through his heart.

Sitting on the edge of the bed she fired three bullets into her own breast, and these failing to kill her; tried to shoot herself in the head, but caused only a scalp wound. She was still conscious when neighbors came and she was later arrested and sent to a hospital. She told the police that she was glad of having done the shooting and then she fainted.

After she had been removed to a hospital Mrs. Hitchcock told a detective one reason why she had killed her husband was because she had heard him talking with a man and woman about sending her to a sanitarium for treatment for the drug habit, of which she was a victim.

PURDUE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE IS FREE

Gratuitous Scholarships at Disposal of Farmers' Organizations.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20.—The Purdue University School of Agriculture has opened its doors wide to the sons and daughters of Indiana farmers, by offering free scholarships. In explanation, Prof. J. H. Skinner, dean of the school, says:

"The farmer boys of Indiana have an exceptional opportunity to acquire a thorough scientific and practical education for the intelligent and successful pursuit of agriculture. Purdue university offers several excellent courses in agriculture, including the regular course of four years and short winter courses in agriculture and horticulture, animal husbandry and dairying.

"To encourage the young people of Indiana to take these courses the authorities of Purdue university have authorized each county farmers' organization, including the Agricultural and Horticultural society, the Fair association and the Farmers' institute, also each farmers' club and each grange, to elect two persons—young men or young women—to free annual scholarships in the school of agriculture. The woman's auxiliary of each county farmers' institute association is also authorized to elect young women to these same courses in agriculture and also to the winter course in household economics."

The winter courses will begin January 20th and continue eight weeks.

APPEAL TO UNWRITTEN LAW ACQUITS MAN IN MISSOURI

Slayer of Man Who Ran Away With Mrs. McMunn Goes Scot Free.

Kennett, Mo., Nov. 20.—The Dunklin county circuit court jury in the case of Aud McMunn, on trial charged with the murder of Arch Brown, whom he shot and killed September 8 last, returned a verdict last night of acquittal, based o nthe "unwritten law."

McMunn came upon Brown writing a letter to Mrs. McMunn, urging her to go with him. McMunn shot Brown dead, the bullets penetrating the unfinished letter.

Mrs. McMunn had left her husband and gone away with Brown, with whom she traveled extensively in the west. Finally wearying of her illicit association with Brown she left him and returned home. She was forgiven by her husband, to whom she protested that she was impelled by some strange influence Brown exercised over her to accept his attentions and to elope with him.

Brown later returned and was worned by McMunn that the past would be forgotten, but that he must altogether cease his attentions to Mrs. McMunn.

It was when McMunn came upon Brown in the livery stable writing a letter to Mrs. McMunn urging her to again leave her husband and return to him that McMunn shot him.

Public sympathy has all along been with McMunn and sentiment here approves the jury's verdict.

Floyd Mowry, of East Berry street, left yesterday for Toledo, to take the civil service examination held there today.

COAST INLAND WATER COURSE GIVEN A BIG BOOST

Convention at Philadelphia is in Earnest and Will Do Something.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—After a two days' discussion of the project for an inland waterway along the Atlantic coast from New England to the Carolinas, the Atlantic deeper waterways conference this afternoon formed a permanent organization and will begin an aggressive campaign to accomplish the great undertaking. At the same time resolutions will be adopted asking the assistance of the national government and the co-operation of all states interested in inland waterways.

The delegates from the several Atlantic coast states attending the conference are highly gratified at the interest taken by the authorities and commercial organizations of the states interested. The attendance at the conference has greatly exceeded their expectations and the unanimity of the delegates for the proposed waterway is gratifying to the various state delegations.

General Agnus, of Maryland, said in an address the conditions of traffic between the north and south have been unsatisfactory for several years. The south is now mining 200 per cent. more coal than all the rest of the country mined in 1880. It is producing three times as much coke, twice as much lumber and just as much pig iron and we may add to this eleven million bales of cotton and find a total of raw products worth more than a billion dollars annually. The lines of railroad are not equal to this business.

PROPOSITION WITHDRAWN.

Telephone Company Breaks Off Negotiations With Board.

The board of public works has been notified by the Home Telephone and Telegraph company of the withdrawal of its original proposition to the city under which it agreed to permit the use of its poles for stringing electric light wires under condition that it pay the city for all that were required for its system and that the city pay an annual rental for the company's poles.

This withdrawal was based on the fact that the city has already begun the work of stringing wires and has not seen fit to accept the proposition offered.

FARMER'S LIFE CRUSHED OUT WHEN BRIDGE COLLAPSED

John Horn, of Springfield Township, Meets a Tragic Death.

John Horn, a well known young farmer in Springfield township, was killed at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when a small bridge on the highway collapsed beneath the weight of a traction engine Horn was driving, and the unfortunate man was crushed between the engine and the water tank attached at the rear. Mr. Horn was thirty years of age and is survived by his wife and one child.

Mr. Horn with others had been operating a corn shredder outfit on the farm of Allen Gorrell, and completing the work was moving to another job. On the road half a mile south of the Center school house is a bridge over a small stream, and this gave way beneath the weight of the machinery. In the fall Horn was pinioned between the engine and the tank wagon and frightfully crushed. His companions extricated his lifeless body from the wreckage and summoned Coroner Stults, who at once began an investigation.

Later it was stated that the unfortunate man was a resident of Paulding, Ohio, and that the machine which he was operating is owned by his brother. Coroner Stults made another trip to Springfield township today to look into the case further.

HAZING MAY COST GIRL'S LIFE.

Student, Locked in Room, Tries to Escape and is Badly Hurt.

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 20.—Attempting to escape by a rope made of lace curtains from her room on the third floor of East hall at the state university of South Dakota, in which she had been locked by girl sophomores, Miss Anna Johnson, a pretty freshman from Howard, S. D., fell thirty feet to the frozen ground, sustaining injuries from which she will probably die.

Her arm was broken in two places, her hip badly fractured and she suffered internal injuries. Girl students who had been watching her perilous descent rushed to her aid and she was carried unconscious into the dormitory.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Johnson was brought to Sioux City from Vermillion and placed in St. Joseph's hospital, where every effort is being made to save her life. A deep gloom has settled over the university as the result of the accident.

The couple quarreled and after brooding over the trouble for a day she decided to end her troubles by taking a large dose of morphine Friday night. The act was discovered by her aunt, Mrs. Effie Neff, with whom she was staying, and a physician was hastily summoned, who applied a stomach pump vigorously and cured the girl of the poison and also of the desire to die. The wedding ceremony was performed by Justice Kimberlin Monday at the home of Mrs. Etta Neff. The young couple will make their home in this city.

SLAYER IN PRANK THAT COST A LIFE PUT ON TRIAL

Man Killed Roommate After Quarrel Over Meddling With Telephone.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 20.—For the killing of his roommate, Raymond Sparks, aged 26, Otis Allen, aged 25, is on trial on an indictment returned Saturday evening by the grand jury for murder in the second degree.

Returning to their boarding house at Sanders Sunday evening, Sept. 15, from attending a baseball game, Sparks stopped in the front yard to partake with a number of other young people of a watermelon feast. Allen passed on into the house and was talking with a young woman over the telephone. The telephone had a lightning arrester on the outside, which when pulled, would break the connection of the 'phone. Hearing Allen ask the woman if he could call on her that evening one of the men grabbed the arrester and Allen never received his answer. Learning the cause of the disconnection he became very angry and darted into his room, placing his revolver in his hip pocket. He went in the yard and began quarreling with Sparks, who slapped him. Allen drew his revolver and a tussle ensued, which resulted in Allen snapping the revolver twice before it went off. The third time the bullet took effect in Sparks' right breast, and the young man fell on the porch in a pool of blood, dying from the wound. The state is assisted by Attorney J. E. Heneley, and the defendant is represented by Attorney Robert G. Miller. It will require the remaining three days of court to try the case.

Police Take Pictures of Inebriates to Make Them Ashamed.

Denver, Nov. 20.—The Denver police have adopted the photograph as the latest jag cure and say it is doing wonders. Whenever an inebriate is brought to the station his picture is taken. Next morning he is shown how he looked the night before and then allowed to go. His shame and the knowledge that the police have his picture and will punish him severely the next time are said to do much toward keeping him from imbibing again.

DARK PLACE FOR FIBBERS.

Boy Told Court He Knew Where Falsifiers Will Go.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 20.—"I know the difference between telling the truth and telling a lie," said Orlie Sheppard, a nine-year-old boy, to Judge Converse in the city court yesterday afternoon. "If boys tell lies they will be placed in a dark place and not allowed to come out," he continued. The boy was qualifying as a witness against his step-father, Ora Mullenix, who was being prosecuted on the charge of cruelly mistreating his ward. Mullenix was fined $1 and costs and sent to jail for ten days.

POLICE FILE AFFIDAVIT AGAINST KEEPER OF A SALOON

Frank Deck Charged With Law Violation—Cases in City Court.

Patrolman Charles C. Nave, of the Fort Wayne police department, walked up this morning before the session of the city court and boldly affixed his signature to an affidavit charging Frank Deck with keeping his saloon open between the hours of 11 p. m. and 5 a. m.

The unusual sight of a patrolman filing an affidavit for a violation of the law governing saloons was refreshing to the regular attendants at the city court, and caused some comment from the fact that there are few instances of this kind on record. Mr. Deck will be notified today that his presence is respectfully solicited at the regular session of the court tomorrow.

The Other Cases.

Horace Thompson, who was taken to headquarters Friday night because he had lost a basketful of toads, snakes and alligators that he said had been stolen from him, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness. The reptiles were creations of West Main street whisky.

Andrew Carnes and John Mitchell, two cigarmakers, got drunk. Carnes was held until tomorrow and Mitchell was let go on his promise to go to work.

Jack Stone and Earl McMillen, two lads who came here from Elkhart to get jobs, were placed in charge of the chief of police.

An affidavit was filed against Louis Schroeder by John C. Keller, charging that he took some bed clothing out of a trunk.

The case against Dora Parker was dismissed. She was recommitted to the hospital for insane at Richmond.

Police Notes.

A trunk belonging to one of the members of Eddie Foy's company was taken from the Lake Erie and Western depot last night and broken open. Nothing was taken and the thief got away. The police recovered the trunk and its contents.

A woman who keeps a rooming house on Chicago street complained that a man who engaged a room under the name of Clyde Preston decamped with $39 of her money.

AUDITORS WILL ORGANIZE.

Convene Today for the Purpose of Forming State Association.

Indianapolis, Nov. 20.—Auditors from ninety-two counties met today in the Denison hotel to form a permanent organization of county auditors. The prime object is the systematization of bookkeeping now in vogue in the ninety-two different counties into one system which will be recognized as a standard in each county auditor's office. The meeting today is the second that has been held. A committee on organization will be named and officers elected today.

A committee headed by Tom Nugent is busy working upon a constitution and by-laws, to govern the new association. An official name has not been decided upon—that is one of the things which Nugent is expected to suggest. The meeting will be addressed today by Attorney General James Bingham.

TAFT BOOM GIVEN A BOOST.

Warren, Ohio, Nov. 20.—The presidential boom for William H. Taft, secretary of war was given an impetus at the annual dinner of the Garfield club here last night. The boom was accelerated in a speech by Attorney General Wade H. Ellis, of Ohio.

The Garfield club is one of the most notable political organizations of the state. Two presidents have been members. Attorney General Ellis recounted the illustrious deeds of his party and then discussed the present financial situation. Mr. Ellis spoke on "The Republican Party" and said in part:

"The Roosevelt policies will be continued and when we come to choose the man who shall execute the subject we will choose another Ohioan, William H. Taft."

OPPOSES PARCELS POST.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—Congressman Jesse Overstreet, of the 7th Indiana district in an address last night at the Commercial club declared against the parcels post and postal savings. He asserts these reforms were not practical.

"If the government undertakes the establishment of postal savings banks what is to be done with deposits?" asked the congressman. Regarding the parcels post system, he asked "Will the inauguration of this system tend to scatter the population over the entire country, or will it bring all the country into the already overgrown, congested cities?"

The drug — caffeine — in coffee causes indigestion and belching in many pale persons with no appetite who would be relieved if they could be induced to stop coffee.

It is easy to do if Postum is used as a table beverage. It is made of clean, roasted wheat and contains the vital phosphates in this "king of cereals" which rebuilds brain and nerve tissues.

It builds up what coffee and tea tear down. Try a change to Postum—"There's a Reason."

WALKER WESTON'S FEET TRAMPLED ON IN CLEVELAND

Veteran Pedestrian Complains of Failure of Police to Protect.

Norwalk, O., Nov. 20.—Edward Payson Weston had to "hobble" along yesterday on his way from Elyria to Fremont, which latter place he expects to reach at midnight.

The aged man's feet were trampled on so much by the demonstrative crowd which met him at Cleveland that he was footsore Monday. As a result he lost twelve hours of the lead he had over his schedule. Weston will never forget Chief of Police Kohler, of Cleveland, for not protecting his feet from the enthusiasm of the throng yesterday.

Despite his handicap, the pedestrian had covered thirty miles from Elyria at 4:18 yesterday afternoon.

Says Protection Was Refused.

While his feet were being bathed in hot salt water here, Weston upbraided Police Chief Kohler.

"I asked for protection," he said, "but it was refused me for the first time in my dealings with the police of various cities. The Cleveland crowd didn't mean to hurt me, but they trampled over my feet until I could scarcely walk."

Weston rested at Elyria from 1 o'clock yesterday morning until 9 and then began his tramp once more, the whitehcaded man bobbing up and down with painful limping.

He passed through Birmingham, half way to Norwalk, at 12:15 o'clock and pushed on without stop until he reached here.

A great crowd greeted him here and he spoke to the throng from the hotel St. Charles portico.

He lunched on oysters and crackers, slept an hour and a half, and left for Fremont, whence he goes today to Toledo.

In Berea Monday he revised his schedule, because of the lack of hotel facilities in the towns he visited forty years ago. By this revision he lost eighteen miles between Berea and Elyria. This and his ailing feet lost him twelve hours.

By his new schedule he passed through South Amherst, Berlin Heights, Berlinville, and this city, going from here through Monroeville to Fremont, which will make another seventy-eight mile tramp.

PLAN WELCOME IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—With a view of making the reception of Edward Payson Weston on his arrival in Chicago next week worthy of his performance in attempting a 1,250 mile walk at the age of more than 69 years, negotiations were started yesterday for the use of the Coliseum or some similar building for a big demonstration by Chicagoans. The local reception will be in charge of the Illinois Athletic club, and efforts will be made to include the mayor and other city officials in the reception, as has been done in other cities through which he has passed since leaving Portland, Me.

BODY OF MOREY IS FOUND.

Man Who Disappeared From Home at Anderson Is Suicide.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 20.—Joseph Morey, 55 years old, was found dead at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Susan Breaky, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, having committed suicide by drinking two ounces of carbolic acid.

Mr. Morey had been missing from his home since noon Monday, when he returned from work and ate dinner with his family.

Mr. Morey was well known in this city, and his tragic death created much surprise. He was the first mail carrier appointed in this city, having begun service under Postmaster Edward Daniels seventeen years ago. Recently he had been a salesman for a wholesale grocery house in this city and was employed by W. W. Reed for five years. The last year he had been employed at the Burnett Paper house and worked Monday until noon.

The members of his family and friends are unable to account for his rash act, as he was reasonably prosperous and his family relations were of the best. He is survived by a wife and three grown children—Fred Morey, of Minnesota; Miss Elizabeth Morey, of Richmond, Ind., and Everett Morey, of Long Lake, N. Y.

We want every mother to visit our children's department. We want your boys' trade and we can have it if you will see what we are doing.

Appetite---None.

The Woeful Reflections of a Withered Dyspeptic.

No substitute for good nature has yet been found. Smiles take root in the stomach. Without good digestion there never can be very much sunshine, for the very simple reason that the stomach and the brain are twins, and what affects one invariably affects the other. The adage that the best road to a person's heart is via the stomach still holds good.

Gorged grub and pappy pie always breed gloom and sleepless nights.

They also breed dyspepsia—quick dyspepsia, and dyspepsia shows itself

Is This You?

in a variety of ways—belching, burning sensations, an empty feeling in the stomach, bloating after eating, brash, aversion to food, fermentation, or downright indigestion.

There are few diseases which create such misery—long drawn out misery—as dyspepsia. It pursues you before meals, after meals, and between meals; you take it to bed with you; it is with you at the theater and at your desk.

What is the only way to get rid of it?

You don't have to stop eating, you don't have to diet. Just take something that will do the work of the stomach and let the stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the most wonderful little tablets on earth for this very thing.

In plain arithmetic, 1 of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets equals 1 good strong stomach for 1 time for 1 good hearty meal. One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest perfectly 3,000 grains of food in just the same way that a strong, robust, healthy stomach would do it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets enrich and increase the gastric juice in your stomach, and that is mostly what you need—more and better gastric juice. And it gives the stomach a rest, a good long rest. In the meantime it cures the dyspepsia, and all other stomach troubles.

Just a few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will prove to you what these little cherubs of health and happiness can do.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale at all druggists at 50c a box.

IN SPITE OF ALL MISS SHONTS WILL WED A TITLE

Magnate's Daughter Has Become Engaged to Scion of Ancient Family.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Shonts announce the engagement of their daughter, Theodora, to Duc de Chaulnes et De Picquiny of France, the wedding to take place at their New York home in January. The duc is now in New York, where he has been since the arrival of Mrs. Shonts and her daughters from Europe several weeks ago, but will sail for France on Thursday.

The engagement of Miss Shonts and the duc has long been expected and is not a surprise to either society in this country or in Europe. The persistent courtship of the duc covers a space of over eighteen months and has been most fervent.

He met Miss Shonts in Paris and fell in love with her shortly after her presentation at the court of King Edward. Her beauty and youth excited admiration in Paris, where she went with her mother after leaving London, and the duc was the first to become er follower.

Many Rumors and Denials.

It was during the trip of the family in Europe that the reports of the engagement of Miss Theodora to the duc first gained circulation. The rumors were denied emphatically by the girl's parents at the time, but again became frequent when the duc visited at the Shonts home in Washington last spring.

Again they were met with denials from Mr. Shonts, but the rumors have cropped out from time to time ever since, the denials being just as frequent.

Washington society fully expected to hear the definite announcement made during the duc's visit here, and its failure to materialize was the cause of much disappointment. The cause of the delay in the young couple's plans, it is thought here, was due to the opposition to the match on the part of Mr. Shonts, who desired that his daughter should become the wife of some young American.

Family of Ancient Nobility.

The duc comes from the oldest of French nobility and is possessed of vast estates, though they are said to be embarrassed with debts. The sister of Duc de Chaulnes, Duchess d'Uzes, is a close friend of Mrs. Shonts and was to have accompanied her brother here upon his visit last winter, but illness prevented. She and Duke d'Uzes will come to the wedding in January, as will several other relatives of the family.

Miss Shonts is now in New York, but will come to Washington during the last of this week to attend the reunion at Mrs. Somers' school, where for several years she was a student. After leaving the school here she was taken abroad and was under special teachers for some time. She is a splendid linguist, pretty, and 20 years old. Her maternal grandfather was the late Governor Drake, of Iowa.

PAPA DOES NOT LIKE IT.

New York, Nov. 20.—The engagement of Miss Theodora Shonts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shonts, to the Duc de Chaulnes, announced in several newspapers today, apparently on authority, has long been expected. It has been prematurely announced on several occasions, but in each instance it was denied by members of the family, and with special emphasis by Mr. Shonts, when he was chairman of the Panama canal commission. He asserted that he wanted his daughters to marry Americans and it has been stated that for a long time he strenuously opposed the union to which he has now agreed. Miss Shonts, who was eighteen in March, met the duc in London about a year ago. Since then he has assiduously courted her, having made several trips to this country for the purpose.

The duc is thirty years old. He has a home in Paris and a hereditary castle in one of the French provinces. Unquestionably his family is one of the noblest, not only in France, but in all Europe. It was originally a patrician family in Italy, but settled in France, and is also one of the most ancient families of Spain.

Rev. C. A. Frakes, of Corunna, who is engaged in the state temperance work with the Twelfth district as his field, will lecture at the South Side mission, 1740 Lafayette street, this evening. The lecture is free, and all are invited to attend. Thursday evening Rev. Frakes will speak at the Salvation Army citadel on "The Legal Status of Judge Artman's Famous Decision."

WIDOW IS ACCUSED BY WIFE.

Charged With Stealing Husband, Mrs. Trussler Faces Damage Suit.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 20.—Mrs. Ora J. Thomas has entered suit against Mrs. Lydia M. Trussler, a widow, demanding $10,000 damages for the alienation of the affections of her husband, D. C. Thomas, an electrician.

Six months ago Thomas disappeared from Marion. It is charged that Mrs. Trussel also left the city. Six weeks ago Thomas was arrested at Newport, Ky., and returned to Marion to answer to the charge of wife desertion. Mrs. Trussler was not found at Newport, but her photograph adorned the wall in Thomas' room. After being returned to Marion, Thomas pretended to repent, and upon his offer to return to his wife he was released. Two days later he again disappeared, and it is believed he has fled to Canada.

The Cheapest Fuel is Coal—Not Gas

If you don't believe it you have but to make the test for yourself.

With a Buck's steel range—the greatest fuel saver made, you can cook an entire dinner consisting of several dishes, bake bread and heat fifty or more gallons of water—all with one fire. With gas you would require six or eight different fires as the case might be—and then the cooking would not be so well done—and the expense tremendously greater.

Let us show you many advantages of these wonderful stoves.

USE OF DENATURED ALCOHOL.

Manufacturers of denatured alcohol—and there are now at least half a dozen concerns with large capital in the field—report that the use of the product is being extended in many different lines, but that as a fuel its progress has been somewhat less rapid than was expected a year ago.

Two causes contribute to this. The first and most important is the cost of the spirit itself—39 cents per gallon in five-barrel lots, according to the latest quotation. This selling price which seems higher in comparison with the estimate made at the time the internal revenue tax was removed by congress, is made necessary, the manufacturers claim, by reason of the price of corn, which is selling around 65 cents per bushel, as against 50 cents at the same time last year and much less in previous years.

The second contributing cause is the slowness with which American factories have been able to turn out satisfactory appliances—stoves, lamps, smoothing irons, and a thousand and one other contrivances of domestic utility and economy such as can be found in almost every menage on the continent of Europe. With heavy duties it has been found impracticable to import the German appliances, and with all American factories profitably employed otherwise, the devices in common use abroad are almost unknown as yet to the people of the United States.

The alcohol producers and the makers of appliances for its consumption as fuel are working hand in hand, it is said, and it is confidently expected that the first of the new year will see the campaign for the introduction of alcohol burning appliances in full blast. American inventors, according to the utilities companies, have been at work, with the result that stoves, lamps, etc., soon to be placed on the market here, are far superior to those of European make.

For use in the industries and arts the call for denatured grain alcohol has been very large, being fully equal to the expectations of the distillers and dealers. It is expected that the month of November will show a total output of more than 500,000 government proof gallons.

The production will materially increase of course, as soon as corn is obtainable at a lower price. The distillers, however, are not counting upon this as a probability of the immediate future, and their agents will continue to urge the use of the spirit as a solvent and a fuel, claiming for it general superiority and safety.

The story of Mrs. Bradley does not differ in any essential respects from all other stories of sin and shame. Her narrative of her relations with the man she killed bears a striking resemlance to the malodorous tale related on the stand by Madeline Pollard, in her notorious suit against the late Congressman Breckinridge, of Kentucky.

A daughter of Theodore P. Shonts is soon to marry a French duke with a pedigree longer than the Christian era and some beautifully encumbered estates. This probably means that the country has had the last installment of what's what for real Americans.

MOTHER OF SIX SETS OF TWINS.

Minnesota Woman With Twenty-Five Children Sets a Record.

Goodhue, Minn., Nov. 20.—Mrs. A. Rosner has given birth to her sixth pair of twins born since 1898. She is the mother of twenty-five children.

Alabama has practically passed a law providing for absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic. The house will concur in senate amendments and the governor will sign the measure. Prohibition sentiment has had a remarkable growth in that state during the past few weeks, and it has culminated in the new prohibitory enactment. It has not been long since the legislature passed a rather drastic measure of regulation for the saloons, providing among other things for early closing, the law operating variously according to the size of the community. In cities of the first class no saloon could remain open later than 9 o'clock p. m., and the provision was graduated down to six o'clock in the smaller places. Then Georgia about the same time passed a law of absolute prohibition. This influenced Alabama sentiment in some degree and the new prohibitory act is the fruit of it.

Perhaps if the $240,000,000 surplus the government has ravished from the people by the operation of excessive and inquitous tariff schedules could be put into circulation anticipated needs of the canal would not be necessary as a basis for bonds and treasury certificates would not be thought of. It may sooner or later dawn on the people of this country that even a republican tariff schedule may err, and that a standpatter is neither the sum of all fiscal wisdom nor the embodiment of all patriotism.

While the value of imports shows a small increase and that of exports a large increase in October over the preceding month of September, they both show a falling off from the figures of October last year. Imports were valued at $111,811,982 campored with $106,366,180 in September, but with that exception they were the smallest since September, 1906. They compare with $118,128,352 in October last year, a decrease of $6,316,370, but exceed those of any October previous to that. Exports show an increase from $135,318,342 in September to $180,559,464, but in October last year they amounted to $187,353,348, or $6,793,884 more. The amount for last month was the largest since January, but October is usually a month of heavy exports and the movement continues for the next two or three months. The excess of exports over imports was $68,747,482 against $69,224,996 in October last year.

SOME POLITICAL GOSSIP.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Edward Hoffman, democratic chairman of Allen county, said yesterday he is not ready to announce his candidacy for the democratic congressional nomination in the Twelfth district. "I am still sizing up the field," said he. "From the way things look now it will be a free-for-all contest."

Ex-State Senator Stephen Fleming, of Fort Wayne, is said to harbor a desire to be returned to the senate, and with that end in view will likely go after the democratic senatorial nomination in the district composed of Allen and Adams counties. W. S. Wells, who was one of Allen's three representatives in the last legislature, will also seek the senatorial nomination. Former Senator Lew V. Ulrey, who was looked upon as a possible candidate, is now out of the running, being too busy with his extensive business interests in Mexico to take the time to run for office.

TOWNSHIP OFFICER MISSING.

Bedford, Ind., Nov. 20.—Bondsmen and the prosecutor of Lawrence county are searching for Samuel Reed, a justice of the peace of Mitchell. He has been missing for two weeks. His family and friends are unable to account for his absence. It is hinted that there is something irregular with the police court docket.

CORN CAUSES HER DEATH.

Aged Woman Has Blood Poison as Result of Trimming Corns.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20.—Blood poisoning resulting from having trimmed a corn and applying a corn plaster two weeks ago caused the death yesterday of Mrs. Benjamin Kimball at her home here. She was 65 years old and was the daughter of Gen. Fernando Lopez, of Mexico.

Germany's population is increasing more rapidly than that of Great Britain or France.

In the last ten years the increase of prices in Germany was 25 per cent. for cereals, 27 for animal products, 55 for textiles, 60 for mineral products.

May Meet Next Monday.

It is the present intention to call a meeting of this committee for next Monday evening for organization and other business if it is possible to secure the attendance at that time of Chicago and Toledo men of prominence who are expected to lend aid in the effort for the lake-to-lake canal. Frank B. Taylor, of this city, and Frank Leverett, of Ann Arbor, Mich., both of whom have made an extensive study of the topographical conditions to be encountered, have prepared a map of a canal route across Indiana from Lake Erie to Lake Michigan which they declare is the most practical solution of the inland waterway problem in its larger form.

In all probability the effort will be directed toward the larger improvement, in which substantial aid is expected from both Toledo and Chicago, as well as from cities along the proposed route. Upon the committee named by Mr. Randall will devolve the duty of determining the most effective manner of presenting the matter to congress and the carrying forward of the effort along these lines.

CORONER FINDS DUNCAN GUILTY.

Says Lafollette's Slayer Shot With Intent to Commit Murder.

Greenfield, Ind., Nov. 20.—Coroner J. L. Allen, in his verdict in the Lafollette murder case yesterday, filed with the written confession of F. M. Duncan, charges Duncan with murder.

The verdict stated that death was caused by a bullet wound through the breast bone, heart and lungs and that the shot was fired by F. M. Duncan with intent to commit murder. Duncan's confession, which gives an account of his actions from the time he left his home about 6:30 o'clock Sunday until he returned after the crime was committed, does not tally with the evidence of some of the witnesses, especially with that of Mrs. Lafollette, the murdered man's wife. She denies seeing Duncan Sunday evening and also denies any knowledge of the shooting until some time after her husband had entered the house and was put to bed by herself and a neighbor. In her evidence she says she was not outside the house except to the coal shed and saw no one.

The coroner issued a warrant for Duncan's rearrest on the charge of murder and has also ordered a special session of the grand jury for Friday morning to investigate the evidence and determine the degree of murder to be charged against Duncan and whether or not other arrests will be made.

OWL BREAKS FRONT OF CAR.

Interurban Motorman Seriously Injured by Shower of Glass.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 20.—Ora Jacobs, motorman on the Fort Wayne & Wabash Valley interurban, was severely injured as a result of a big owl dashing against the glass in the front vestibule while he was driving his big car at a high rate of speed east of this city. The owl had been blinded by the light and flying against the car sent the glass flying, Jacobs being badly cut about the face.

SOLOON MAN HELD AS THIEF.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 20.—George Woodruff, a saloonkeeper of Gas City, was yesterday found guilty in the court of Mayor Hunt on the charge of stealing coal, and was given a jail sentence of ninety days and assessed a fine of $100. Woodruff, it is alleged, stole coal from railroad cars. He will appeal to the circuit court.

REACHES A CRUCIAL POINT IN TESTIMONY

for Senator Brown's room and engaging one for herself, but she had not indicated any particular location for her room. When she reached her room, she changed her clothes and then sought the senator's apartments. When she entered she recognized the senator's trunk and asked a maid when the senator would return. She sat down to wait and seeing a letter lying on the table read it. This was Mrs. Adam's letter to Mr. Brown, concerning which so much has been said. Mrs. Bradley shed tears as she told of this letter.

Interview in Brown's Room.

The Adams letter was then shown Mrs. Bradley for identification. She said. "Yes, I guess that's the one. I don't know; it had something in it about me."

Continuing she said her room was only a little distance from the senator's and at one time her attention was attracted by the Senator's footstep, and she went to his room knocked and went in.

"What was said?"

"He turned to me and asked, 'What are you doing here?' "

"I said, 'I came to ask you if you won't carry out your promises to me.' "

Woman Tells of the Shooting.

"What did he say?"

"I don't know. He just rushed to me. I don't know what he said."

"What did you next do?"

"I didn't know anything until I heard a shot which seemed to arouse me."

"Did you shoot him?"

"I don't know, judge."

"Did you go there for the purpose of shooting him?"

"I did not."

"Did you go there with any purpose of revenge?"

"No."

"Did you know he was shot?"

"I did not, I did not know anything about it."

"What did he do?"

"He just walked the floor and swore."

"Did you take aim?"

"I did not."

"Had you ever fired a gun before that day?"

"I had not."

Mrs. Bradley said she did not remember whether she was Mr. Brown's wife nor anything about the row.

This recital was given in a voice that scarcely rose above a whisper and it was evident that the witness was much affected. Her feeling at that time toward Mr. Brown was, she said, "One of utter dependency, trust and love." He was not jealous, she added.

"Can you give any reason why you shot Senator Brown?" she was asked.

"No, I have no reason."

The Adams Letter.

The Adams letter was then offered in evidence by Powers.

The letter was read by Attorney Wells. It was dated at Philadelphia Dec. 1, and was addressed, "Dearie, my Dearie." It began

"The world seems to have take on another hue, because perhaps I have heard from you."

The letter then went on to speak of the visits of some one, supposedly Mrs. Bradley, to the senator's house and speaking of her as a "poor, misguided soul," who should be behind prison bars. The writer proceeded to speak of her own engagements as an actress and said that she would not be in the east for some weeks, but would keep him advised.

The letter then entered upon a dissertation upon love and hate, saying that she was "overflowing with love for you, the sweetest and dearest of all, and you and I are to become believers in the divine command to love one another. Believest thou this?"

The epistle continued: "Yea, verily." The note closed with endearing words.

REV. FATHER H. C. KAPPEL PASSES AWAY AT OXFORD

Well Known Young Clergyman Was Born and Reared in Fort Wayne.

Rev. Father Henry C. Kappel, a well known young Catholic clergyman, who was born and reared in Fort Wayne, died at 5 o'clock this morning at his home in Oxford, Ind., at the age of 34 years. Prior to June last, Father Kappel was pastor of the Catholic church at Arcola. He is survived by his parents and other relatives in Fort Wayne. Father Kappel had been in failing health for some time. He suffered from a heart affection, and later lung trouble intervened as a complication.

Rev. Father Kappel was born in Fort Wayne, February 2, 1873. He attended St. Mary's parochial school, and completed his education at St. Lawrence college, Mount Calvary, Wis., and Mount St. Mary's seminary in Cincinnati. On June 24, 1897, he was ordained to the priesthood in this city by Rt. Rev. Bishop Rademacher. His first appointment was as assistant to Rev. H. M. Plaster, at Hammond, and later he was assistant to Rev. Father Kroeger, at Logansport. He was pastor of Walkerton and its missions from September, 1898, to July, 1901, and was the first resident pastor there. Later he served as pastor at Fairmount and Matthews, then pastor at Plymouth, and on September 13, 1905, was appointed pastor at Arcola and its mission, Pierceton. Here he remained until June last, when he received the appointment to Oxford. Father Kappel's parents were at his bedside when the end came.

17 HURT IN NEW RAIL TUNNEL.

Passenger Trains Collide Head-On at Entrance to Washington Station.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Seventeen persons were injured in a head-on collision between north-bound and south-bound Southern railway passenger trains at the entrance to the new terminal tunnel at New Jersey avenue and D street in this city late yesterday afternoon. The following is a list of those taken to hospitals: Luther K. Armstrong, mail clerk, Washington; William L. Miller, Alexandria, Va.; David Bailey, Washington; R. H. Poindexter, mail clerk, Cleaton station, Va.; B. F. Wright, mail clerk, Menders, Va.; Mrs. R. N. Burgess, Washington; Mary E. Coolidg, Cascanova, Va.; Elizabeth Collidg, Cascanova, Va.; Ashley L. Malone, Harrisonburg, Va.; James S. Saunders, Alexandria, Va.; James J. Goodwin, Alexandria, Va.; Rufus L. Mitchell, Alexandria, Va.; Wayne T. Carr, Alexandria, Va.; Alex Johnson, colored, Culpepper, Va.; John W. Norse, colored, Washington; Ellis Harris, colored, Fairfax, Va.; Nellie Ramsey, colored, Washington.

The two trains were late owing to congestion of traffic at the new terminal, and the collision was caused, it is said, by a switchman giving the wrong signal.

Between January 1 and November 1 the fire loss of the United States was $180,765,300, compared with $424,460,200 in the same ten months of 1906.

MAN WITH BOGUS CHECKS WAS BUSY AT OTHER POINTS, ALSO

Man Who Cashed Bad One at Randall Turned Similar Trick Elsewhere.

Frank E. Purcell, of the Randall hotel, who was the victim of a forged check to the tune of $25 a few days ago, now has the melancholy satisfaction of knowing that there are others. The same individual who induced Mr. Purcell to hand over good money for a bad check cashed another at Indianapolis for $50 and two at Cleveland calling for $25 and $75 respectively.

This information came to Mr. Purcell today from the Adams Steel & Wire company, of Joliet, the signature of which was attached to the check presented by one F. B. Cooper. The man represented himself to be a salesman for the company, and three checks were received by him in a letter which he opened in the presence of the hotel clerk. Mr. Purcell, after listening to the man's complaint about the difficulty in getting checks cashed owing to the financial stringency, finally consented to take the smaller one in settlement of the man's hotel bill and paid him the balance in cash. The man has not since been seen.

The check was drawn against a bank in which the company carries no account, and the company states that it not only hasn't the honor of Mr. Cooper's acquaintance, but that it has no salesman traveling east of Joliet at this time.

About 125 members were in attendance and a most enjoyable time was had by all. Progressive pedro was played and the successful contestants were Leonard Bueter, who won the first prize, and E. J. Garrett, Ind., Nov. 20.—John Newbower, who was arrested Sunday for throwing a stone through the window of an interurban car of the T. & W. at this point, had a hearing before Justice Beehler and was bound over to court in the sum of $50. He had last Saturday received his pay as a machinist in the B. & O. shops here and had the money in his pocket. This amount he deposited with the justice as security for his appearance when his case is called. Considering the nature of the offense, the amount of the bond is regarded as being very small.

Confidential Chats With the Beauty Specialists

"Yes," said the Beauty Doctor, adjusting a lock of her fashionably colored auburn hair, "lots and lots of women will undergo treatment that is almost torture in order to correct some of Nature's mistakes." "And yet," she continued, "a too retousse nose, a rather too large mouth or an imperfect contour of the face are all forgotten if the complexion is blooming and the glow of health is in the skin."

"And, by the way," she said, "now I am out of the profession, here is the formula that has given many of my most charming clients their brilliant complexions.

"Take two ounces of Rose Water, one ounce of Cologne Spirits and four ounces of Eppotone (skin food.) Put the Eppotone in a pint of hot water (not boiling), and after dissolved, strain, and let cool. Then add the rose water and cologne spirits. You now have at a slight cost the finest thing for the complexion that money can buy, and enough to last you for months.

"This wash is absolutely harmless to the most delicate skin, and it gives back to the faded complexion the natural glow of youth."

"Oh, yes, you can make any use you like of this formula."

"No! I'm not going back into the business. I'm going to take my own treatment and enjoy a little of the good things which come to a woman who knows how to make herself attractive."

Separate Coat and Skirt Suit

Jackets of plain material look decidedly smart with plaid or striped skirts that are so stylish this fall. A coat made like the one in this illustration and trimmed with the skirt material would make an effective costume for a young girl.

MACMILLEN VIOLIN RECITAL.

A Rich and Varied Program for Concert at Majestic Tonight.

PAPAL BID TO MISS VANDERBILT

Pontiff Expresses Desire to Receive Her and Count.

Rome, Nov. 20.—It is said the pope has written to Archbishop Farley expressing a desire to receive Miss Gladys Vanderbilt and Count Szchenyi before they are married. It is stated in vatican circles the pope is sanguine of receiving Miss Vanderbilt into the church of Rome. Should the couple visit the vatican Miss Vanderbilt undoubtedly would be honored as if she were a royal princess. It is said the pope probably would confer on the couple the titles of count and countess of the Holy Roman empire.

GROUSE.

Grouse may be split in halves through the back without separating, seasoned with salt and pepper, rubbed over with olive oil and broiled over a brisk fire, then served with a good mushroom sauce. They may be cut in halves lengthwise, skinned, rolled in bread crumbs and oil or melted butter, fried over a moderate fire, turning so as to cook both sides, then served with a rich sauce. They may be larded and baked, stewed, made into a pie, or used in a salmi.

The latter is a specially nice way of preparing them. Cut col droast grouse in pieces for serving. Put into a frying pan one-quarter of a cup of butter and when hot add one tablespoonful of raw ham chopped fine, a slice of onion and a stalk of celery chopped. Cook until the vegetables are colored, then add one-quarter of a cup of flour, and when that is browned and frothy three-fourths cup of brown stock, or gravy. Season with one-half teaspoonful of salt and a few grains cayenne, cook five minutes, strain, add the grouse and when the meat is thoroughly heated through, arrange on a hot serving dish, and set where it will keep warm while the sauce is prepared. Add one-half wine glass of sherry and the thin shaved rind of a half lemon, to the gravy in the pan, cook two minutes longer, pour over the grouse and serve with a garnish of fried bread points.

THE NEEDLEWORK GUILD HOLDS ITS ANNUAL ROUND-UP

Over 2,000 Garments Donated in Collection at Court House.

The annual roundup of the Needlework Guild has been in progress for two days in the assembly room of the court house. The collection is the largest—2,072 garments—that the local society has ever had, the garments are the best in quality and usefulness and many articles are so far superior to any collection the directors and section presidents have had to handle before that some time may have been lost in giving vent to expressions of delight. As a prominent worker remarked this morning to a representative of The Sentinel:

"The real joy of this work lies in the duty of this morning when we are distributing the donations according to the requests sent to us and to such organizations as we know need and will appreciate the gifts. The absent section presidents from this meeting little realize what they are missing by their lack of interest."

The collection is a wonderful one when one considers how it comes to the guild—two garments or two needed articles for the hospital or the orphans' homes from each giver. In the roundup this season there are 60 garments for men, 424 for boys, 200 for women, 686 for girls, 260 for infants, and 442 of miscellaneous, such as comforables, blankets, towels, etc. The garments include underwear, shoes and stockings, dresses for infants and small girls, hoods, caps, small garments for out-door wear, leggins, flannel wrappers and similar articles. Of bedding there are blankets, comforters, pillowslips, etc. Five comfortables were made by a club of five women during the summer. Each woman donated material for one warm bed cover and all met together and pieced them and then knotted them. A crippled young girl, not twenty years old, got forty-four garments contributed to her section. It is such workers as these who get into the real feeling of giving.

The distribution is made by vote after consideration of requests that are sent in to the officers. Requests from public schools are first considered, as all such are lists made carefully under the supervision of the principal of the building. Other beneficiaries are the St. Vincent's orphans' home, the Allen county orphans' home, the Visiting Nurse League, the Willing Workers' Aid society, the Relief Union, the three hospitals of the city the city missions and the Y. W. C. A.

A list of donations and the distributions are placed on a blackboard in the assembly room, and the donations are on long counters in the same room. Tomorrow the public is asked to visit the room and see what has been given and what distribution will be made of the garments and other gifts.

The annual meeting of the Needlework Guild will be held tomorrow afternoon and interesting reports, talks of the work and the guild will be made. The annual election of officers will be held.

Statement Issued From New York Says Rockefeller Hasn't Any.

New York, Nov. 20.—John D. Rockefeller is not hoarding government bonds, according to a statement issued last night by those who said that they were authorized to speak for him. Mr. Rockefeller authorizes the following statement:

"I am informed that there have appeared in several newspapers recently reports that I possess $100,0000,000 of United States government bonds which I have refused to loan or sell for the purpose of helping the situation or of aiding additional circulation by the banks.

"I do not own at the present time, nor have I owned at any time during the recent crisis, any United States government bonds whatever."

SEES HIS STORY GIVEN IN PLAY.

Mark Twain Attends Performance of "Prince and Pauper."

New York, Nov. 20.—Mark Twain led several hundred of his literary and society friends to the east side last night, where at the Children's Educational theater, they witnessed a performance of "The Prince and the Pauper," a dramatization of the host's charming story of the same title. The children who produced the play received the applause of the guests and the compliments of Mark Twain.

Among those who attended the performance were Governor Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Judge Elbert H. Gary, Mrs. John Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schiff, President Eliot of Harvard university, John Burroughs the naturalist, Ray Stannard Baker, Brander Matthews and Richard Harding Davis.

BANK CASHIER KILLS HIMSELF.

Driven to the Act by Financial Losses of the Institution.

Pleasantville, Iowa, Nov. 20.—Ralph Flannagan, aged 21, cashier of the First National bank of this city, shot and killed himself yesterday morning after brooding over the financial losses of the bank in the last few days. The supreme court, in a recent decision, held the bank liable on a check kited by George Griswold and Stephen Essex through the bank two years ago. Griswold is the man who was supposed to have been killed and thrown into the Des Moines river. Through the bankruptcy of William Reed, a farmer, yesterday the bank became liable for $1,500 on a loan.

TURN IN MUNICIPAL WAR.

Charges Filed Against Mayor of Decatur in Council Dismissed.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 20.—There was a new turn in the Decatur municipal war last night, when at the council meeting the judiciary committee, to which had been referred the charges of Marshal Green and the council against Mayor D. D. Coffee, some time ago, reported by resolution authorizing that the charges now filed be dismissed and that the city attorney be empowered to draft new charges and file them in the Adams circuit court, where the matter will now be fought.

The cause for this mode of procedure was brought about by Councilman Martin withdrawing his name from the charges formerly filed and arraying himself on the mayor's side; and, as Councilman Chronister had always stood for the mayor, the other three councilmen were powerless to act in the matter, as it takes four members to secure a conviction upon impeachment proceedings. With the matter in the circuit court the three members who are opposed to Mayor Coffee's rule are confident that they can obtain a verdict, and thus oust him. Mayor Coffee stated in open council meeting that he would fight the council to a finish.

FOUR FOREIGNERS KILLED.

Were Thawing Dynamite for Blasting at a Construction Camp.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 20.—Four foreigners were killed and three injured in an explosion at a construction camp on the Portland and Seattle road twelve miles south of Cheney, Wash., yesterday, while thawing dynamite for blasting. Some of the bodies were blown into fragments. One of the injured is Charles Pascuzzi, foreman of the gang. The men had placed the dynamite near a fire to thaw, and say it had caught fire. Four of them ran to the fire to take the rest of the dynamite out of the way of the flames when it exploded.

HAD ENSLAVED BOYS.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Three Greeks found guilty of having imported boys from their native country to be farmed out to proprietors of shoeshining establishments were fined by Federal Judge Bethea yesterday. The fines were accompanied by a threat of penitentiary sentences should the offense be repeated. The fines, which ranged from $25 to $500, were based on the making of false affidavits in securing entrance for the boys to the United States.

BREWER FIGHTS TOUGH SALOON.

Busch Says Places Where His Beer Is Sold Must be Orderly.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—The Budweiser Gardon, for four years the most notorious dance hall, theater and soloon in Belleville, Ill., a suburb, was closed last night by orders from Augustus Busch. The Anheuser-Busch Brewing association owns the property. This action was taken after John Meth, lessee of the garden, had been fined for violation of the law. Mr. Busch announced a few days ago his intention of closing every lawbreaking saloon in the country with which he has relations, and also of closing every saloon where crime is committed. Temperance people say Mr. Busch is seeking to curb the prohibition wave sweeping over the country.

CATHOLIC FOES OF DRINK MEET.

Executive Council of Total Abstinence Order Adopts Temperance Primer.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The executive council of the Catholic Total Abstinence Order met here yesterday, with Archbishop John J. Keane of Dubuque, Iowa, president of the union, presiding. He urged more active work in local centers. Bishop Canevin of Pittsburg, submitted the manuscript of the temperance primer adopted to American schools. The primer was adopted and an effort will be made by the national union to have it introduced in all the Catholic schools of the country. Prizes will be offered by the union to the Catholic colleges for the education of the American priests for the best essay on subjects covering living questions of the drink habit.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 20.—Hope that President Roosevelt will attend the Yale-Harvard football game here next Saturday has been aroused because of the application on behalf of the president, for ten tickets for the game. It is rumored that the president accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ethel, will arrive in Boston Friday night but no confirmation of the report is obtainable here.

SALOON KEEPERS ARE PUZZLED.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 20.—Gas City saloon keepers are at a loss to know whether it is intended that they operate or close their places on Sunday. Four weeks ago the city council adopted a resolution asking for the enforcement of the Nicholson law. One week ago the resolution was rescinded. This action was considered as an invitation for an open town. However, three saloon keepers were yesterday arrested upon charges of having sold liquor last Sunday. Maurice Baker pleaded guilty and was fined $25. William Lewis and Jeff Miller pleaded not guilty and their trials were set for next Thursday.

James J. Hill Delivers a Striking Speech on Money Trouble.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—There was a skeleton at the feast of the Commercial club last night when the members gathered for their thirteenth annual banquet. James J. Hill, head of the Great Northern railway, pointed out the spector of desolation and ruin which he said is ready to stalk through the country unless "men in high places" quit tearing the fabric of credit by "denouncing all corporations."

Some of the corporations, especially railroads, said Mr. Hill, were public benefactors and should not be classed among evildoers. The work of the railroads should not be stopped by lack of confidence on the part of the investing public. As soon as the people get frightened, according to Mr. Hill, they quit buying railroad securities, thus keeping money out of the reach of the carriers, whose policy, he declared, was to use the people's money for the benefit of the people.

People Must Pay for Lines.

Mr. Hill said American railroads carry passengers and freight cheaper than those of any other county and paid more returns on their capitalization. But the country, he said, needed more "avenues of commerce"—about $1,650,000,000 worth a year—and unless the people put up the money they could not get the extensions of rail lines, which, he said, would do more for the country than anything else.

The man who built the Great Northern line said the railroad men of this country had a right to be proud of their record and to resent the criticism of them based on naught but ignorance.

Confiscatory legislation, Mr. Hill said, existed in 170 recent enactments by more than twenty states. The consequence of these laws to the railroads and through them to the price of the things we eat and wear, has made the "whole nation shiver."

Wants "Regulated Regulation."

Regulation of carriers, said Mr. Hill, was proper and right, provided it was of the right kind. The rights of the carriers, he asserted, must be respected and their existence must not be jeopardized through legislative folly.

In closing his speech, Mr. Hill said: "Before we again realize a favoring disposition to invest there must be a different temper, a larger view of justice, a better appreciation of what the railroads of the United States have done and are doing, as compared with those of the rest of the world, and a settled policy of fair and reasonable liberal treatment, and protection for the future.

"We have read of a conflict between 'righteousness and business.' There can be no such conflict, unless there is fraud at the business end or hypocrisy and cant at the righteousness end.

"It is time for the whole country to sober down and think out the problems before it. They are serious enough to call for its best and most earnest effort. They are vital enough to engage the most generous patriotism."

BOY SHOOTS CHILD IN PLAY.

Fires Rifle to See Whether It Is Loaded and Wounds Baby.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 20.—Playfully picking up a target rifle at a blacksmith shop in Unionville yesterday afternoon, Harry Steidd, the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kate Steidd, told three other children with him to stand back while he fired to see whether it was loaded. Edna Ritter, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ritter, did not heed the admonition, but stood directly in front of the Steidd boy, who fired. The bullet plowed its way into the child's shoulder and she dropped as if dead. The little tot was carried home, and Dr. Fritch, of Unionville, summoned to attend her, says the child will get well. Mrs. Ritter and her children were spending the day at the Steidd home.

SHERIFF KILLS A MAN.

Litchfield, Ill., Nov. 20.—Deputy Sheriff M. T. Higgins, of this county, shot and killed an unidentified man near Hillsboro, late last night, supposed to be a member of a gang of tramps and burglars that have been terrorizing the community. Nine of the gang were captured and locked up in jail.

LABORERS ARE PAID MORE THAN MINISTERS.

Some Churches Are Paying the Same Salaries as Fifty Years Ago.

"Of all the professions, that of the minister is the poorest paid; from none other is more demanded," says Cyrus Townsend Brady in the December Delineator. "The average clerical stipend is about a dollar and a half a day. Nowadays the simplest manual labor of the unskilled variety is more liberally compensated. The cost of living since the fixed rate of clerical payment was established has increased five-fold. Can it be that the clergy are expected to eat only one-fifth of what they used to do, to say nothing of what they wear? I know of churches that are paying exactly the same salaries that were paid fifty years ago, while the income of nearly every member thereof has probably increased from two to five times."

Patterson-Fletcher Co. sells the "Atlas" heavy weight union underwear at $1.00. Fifty cents less than the others.

REFORM OF FOOTBALL IS LATEST REFORM BY CARNEGIE

Would Eliminate Commercial Spirit—Provides for a Free Game.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—Andrew Carnegie has started out to eliminate the commercial spirit from the game of foot ball, and as a first move will bring the Lehigh university team to Pittsburg to play the Carnegie "Tech" school team on Thanksgiving day. He will offer this attraction to the people of Pittsburg absolutely free.

It is expected Carnegie will cut deep into the receipts of the W. U. P.-Pennsylvania State college game, booked for Pittsburg that day. The Carnegie school does not seem to care for that, but is advertising the game the same as if big money is to be made out of it. The game is to be played at Schenley park oval, arrangements being made to have all the college games participated in by the Carnegie "Tech" school played in the open, where not a cent can be charged for admission.

The movement worries the other teams, which have been making big money out of foot ball.

Carnegie Representative Explains.

Director Hammerschlag, who is accepted here as the representative of Carnegie in matters pertaining to the "Tech" schools, said last evening.

"It is the intention of the Carnegie schools to cultivate the real spirit of sport, if possible, and eliminate the gate receipt idea so far as possible. With the loss of gate receipts there will be better foot ball, better college sports of all kinds, and also less injury to players, for the gate receipts make it possible for the college practically to hire players to make their team better than some other one. In this way strong, full grown men often are pitted against small boys and foot ball injury follows.

Wants Sport for Sport's Sake.

"The Carnegie school taking the initiative against gate receipts will have sport for sport's sake. We expect to pay the expenses by the sale of the program. There is a feeling against gate receipts and semi-professional foot ball in eastern colleges, too, and it would not be a matter of surprise to find next season that some of the big colleges will have at least one day's free playing game so their friends can come and see them without having to pay for it. In taking this stand against admission to games I am not taking a stand against foot ball, for I like it and think it the leading American game."

HITCHCOCK WAS SUSTAINED.

Declined to Reply in Case of William Astor Chanler Against Hearst.

New York, Nov. 20.—Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, refused to answer questions put to him when he was called yesterday as a witness in the action for criminal libel brought by former Congressman William Astor Chanler, against William R. Hearst.

Hitchcock based his refusal on his constitutional rights, in that, as he was himself under indictment, he could not be compelled to make answers which might tend to incriminate and degrade him. The witness was sustained by the court and an adjournment was taken until today as the defense was not prepared to call other witnesses. Hitchcock is under indictments growing out of charges made by young girls and the libel alleged by Mr. Chanler associates the complainant with Mr. Hitchcock in the society of these girls. The defense asked Hitchcock whether Mr. Chanler was present at the actor's Long Island home on a certain Sunday in the latter part of 1906, when two girls were guests at the house. To this and other questions the witness refused to reply.

Cookery.

"You don't treat me with nice consideration, anticipate my every want, provide me with whatever is designed to make life pleasant regardless of expense, betray a vigilant solicitude for my comfort, a tender respect for my feelings, an absorbing interest in my happiness," complained the wife.

"Certainly not," replied the husband. "I didn't marry a cook."—New York Life.

Ducal Caution.

"The duke insists that the wedding must be postponed."

"What reason does he give?"

"He's troubled with depression."

"Mental?"

"No, financial. He's waiting to find out how much papa lost in Wall street."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Better Still.

She—And after we are married, dear, you'll tell me everything that happens, won't you? Cousin Fannie's husband does.

He—Well, darling, I'll go Fannie's husband one better. I'll tell you a lot of things that don't happen at all.—Chicago News.

Not His Kind.

Mr. Nodd—I don't think much of that toy bank you got the children.

Mrs. Nodd—What's the matter with it?

Mr. Nodd—Why, I worked over it all the evening and couldn't open it.—Judge.

A Caustic Critic.

"Yes," said Hi Tragedy, self complacently, "I am satisfied that I would make an ideal Hamlet."

"Come off!" cried Lowe Comedy. "Hamlet means 'a little ham,' and you're a big one."—Philadelphia Press.

Our Charity.

"But," insisted the good man, "isn't it true, as the old saying goes, that 'charity covers a multitude of sins?'"

"Huh," snorted the cynic, "not if it's our charity and other people's sins."—New York Press.

A SIMPLE COUNTRY DINNER.

When we goed to Aunt Carrie's, she
Sez she ain't had no time to fix
A dinner like it ought to be,
'Cause she has been at work since six
O'clock, a-sweepin' out th' rooms
An' tidyin' th' place a lot,
So, if we're hungry, she p'sumes
We'll haf to take just what she's got.

An' nen she sez she ain't th' one
To try to put on city style—
She likes relations just to run
In for a meal once in awhile
An' be content with what is cooked—
A simple country dinner—so
If anything is overlooked
It'll haf to be excused, you know.

An' nen she goes an' shuts th' door
'At leads out where th' table is,
An' pa, he sez he's glad he'd wore
'At country appuhtite o' his!
Aunt Carrie tells us to come on
Although there's nothin' fit to touch,
But we can eat till it is gone,
But she knows that it isn't much!

An' there is chickens—young ones—fried,
An' there's a juicy, big boiled ham,
'Ith lots o' gravy on each side,
An' turnips an' blackberry jam
An' soda biscuits—just as light—

Couldn't Discharge Him.

When the jury had filed in for at least the fourth time, with no sign of coming to an agreement in the bribery case, the disgusted judge rose up and said, "I discharge the jury!"

At this one sensitive talesman, stung to the quick by this abrupt and ill sounding decision, obstinately faced the judge.

"You can't discharge me, judge," he retorted.

"Why not?" asked the astonished judge.

"Because," announced the talesman, pointing to the defendant's lawyer, "I'm being paid by that man there."—Lippincott's.

BREAKS CITY COURT PLEDGE.

Victim of Drink Habit Attempts Suicide and is Taken to Jail.

Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 20.—Because he could not quit the drink habit and had become despondent, Wesley Alsop, a farmer, aged 38 years, who had taken the pledge in the city police court Monday morning, three times yesterday afternoon attempted to commit suicide. After he had made his third attempt he was locked in jail, but it took three men and a policeman to get him there. His first attempt was in the saloon of Theodore Jordan. To Robert Jordan, the bartender, he gave his last nickel for a glass of beer. In the presence of young Jordan he poured half the contents of a six-ounce bottle of carbolic acid into his beer then started to drink it. This was knocked from his lips. He then made an attempt to drink the acid that had been left in the bottle and this also was knocked away from his lips. His next attempt at suicide was on the Wabash river front.

DIPLOMA IS LIFE LICENSE.

Court Makes Ruling in County Superintendent's Case.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 20.—The person who holds a diploma from the State Normal school holds a life license so far as the county superintendency of schools is concerned, is the opinion expressed in the argument of a demurrer filed in the circuit court yesterday. The demurrer was filed in the case of the state on the relation of William E. Modlin against Finley Geiger.

The case was venued to Marion from Hartford City and is a disagreement between the men mentioned as to who shall be county superintendent of the Blackford county schools. Modlin was elected to succeed Geiger and the latter refused to give up office, pleading that his elected successor was not possessed of the necessary qualifications. The case was decided once in favor of Modlin and was appealed and then referred back to the original court because of the error. Afterward it was venued to the Grant county circuit court.

TELEPHONE GIRLS ON STRIKE.

Demand Better Wages and Shorter Hours at Danville Exchange.

Danville, Ind., Nov. 20.—Danville has a full-fledged "strike"—the first in many years. Miss Biddy Hart, chief operator; Miss Bessie Brown and Miss Bessie Dooley, operators in the Consolidated Telephone exchange, walked out yesterday. Their principal grievances are insufficient pay, long hours and not enough help to handle the work and unpleasant treatment by the acting superintendent. New girls have replaced the strikers, but the service is not up to the standard.

THIS MAN HAS NO KICK.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—H. Oliphant of Patoka, Ind., a grower of strawberries and canteloupes, testified yesterday afternoon before the interstate commerce commission that the consignment system employed by the Wells-Fargo Express company was exceedingly beneficial to him. He declared that if the practice should be prohibited by law it would deprive him of profits and compel him to seek the services of a commission merchant. He cited the instance of a neighbor who sent melons to a commission merchant in Omaha and received 60 cents a basket for them. His own he assorted he sold to the same commission merchant through the agent of the express company for 90 cents a basket. The investigation was continued today.

GRAIN ELEVATOR IN RUINS.

Fire Destroys Property Valued at $20,000, Partially Insured.

Delphi, Ind., Nov. 20.—The large Kerlin elevator, containing 10,000 bushels of wheat and 4,000 bushels of oats, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. The estimated damage of $20,000 is partially insured. The fire was beyond control when discovered, and the efforts of the fire department were directed toward preventing the destruction of surrounding dwellings, several of which were ignited by the intense heat. The cause of the fire is not known.

TAKE VOWS AFTER 50 YEARS.

Aged Couple Enact Marriage Ceremony at Golden Wedding.

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Philip Harbaugh celebrated last night the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage by being remarried, Rev. E. Richard Edwards, pastor of the Main street Christian church, officiating. There were seventy-nine guests in attendance, among whom were eight children of the Harbaughs and five grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh are the parents of Councilman John Harbaugh.

NEAR END IN LEWIS TRIAL.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20.—Testimony for the defense in the trial of Edward G. Lewis, charged with having used the mails to defraud in establishing the People's United States bank, will, it is expected conclude today. The government has only a few witnesses in rebuttal and it is believed the case will go to the jury before the end of the week.

TURNS LAUGH ON NAVAL MEN.

Officials Entertain Poor Inventor, Thinking Him Another.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Negotiations for three months with Harry Stenfteben, a poor French inventor, in the belief that he was the representative of a great Paris company that was seeking to sell submarine mines to the United States, the bringing of the needy stranger here with his submarine mine he had failed to find a customer for in Europe, and the failure to discover the error until a test was ready at Newport have put the laugh on the officers of the bureau of ordnance of the navy department. They have dined and wined the poor Frenchman since August 27, and he has lived on the best the navy department officers get. All the while they have believed he was some one else. The mistake was discovered when Commander Albert Gleaves came to examine the mine for a test at Newport.

PLAN MOVE IN DIVORCE WAR.

Episcopalian Ministers Want Facts Shown on Marriage Licenses.

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 20.—Episcopalian ministers of Illinois are planning a new step in the anti-divorce movement. The northern deanery of the Chicago diocese, in session here, decided to ask the legislature for a law requiring that every marriage license show whether either of the parties have been divorced, and, if so, for what cause. This will enable pastors who have scruples against marrying divorced persons to avoid doing so ignorantly. All Episcopalian ministers in the state will be asked to use their influence to secure the passing of such a law.

INDICTED AS OIL JURY BRIBER.

Former Ohio State Senator Accused of Illegal Work for Standard.

Findlay, O., Nov. 20.—Former State Senator Thomas McConica was indicted by the grand jury here yesterday for alleged bribery in connection with the Standard Oil trial last June. It is alleged that Senator McConica attempted to bribe Juror Charles Thomas, offering him $500 if he voted for acquittal. Byron Williamson was indicted on the same charge several months ago.

Ladies Delighted

with Mrs. Montrose's interesting and instructive "Heart to Heart" talks on the "Universal" Bread Maker.

Everybody says the Bread that Mrs. Montrose is making is the best ever. It is made in the "Universal"—kneaded in three minutes and without touching the hands to the dough. Come in and see it made up and baked right in the store. Get one of the little sample loaves.

The Universal Way Saves Much Time and Worry on Baking Day.

The sponge is set in the machine, the kneading and raising both done without taking the Break Maker apart. The shape of the pail keeps out the draughts, and the cover prevents dust collecting or a hard crust forming on the dough.

In many families where they already have a "Universal" the little girl makes the bread.

The Universal Way of Kneading Bread Will Save Much Washing and Cleaning Up.

After a trial or two you will know just how much flour will be necessary to get the dough just stiff enough to turn easily and yet come out nicely when ready for the bread pans. It should lift right out, leaving the bowl of the machine cleaner than you imagine. You must see it demonstrated.

RHEUMATISM CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, the application of plasters, and other means of external treatment, are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism, but such remedies do not reach the CAUSE of the disease, and are therefore in no sense curative. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought about by indigestion, poor bowel action, weak kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. The circulation deposits this irritating poison in the different muscles, nerves, tissues and joints of the body, and soon the painful symptoms of Rheumatism are produced. The pains at first may be wandering and slight; but as the blood becomes more fully saturated with the uric acid poison, the disease grows worse and after awhile gets to be chronic. The slight, wandering pains now become sharp and cutting at the least exposure to dampness or night air, or any constitutional irregularity, the bones ache, the muscles are not as free in action as before, and where the acid poison is allowed to remain in the blood the joints often become so clogged with corrosive substances that they are left permanently stiff and useless. Rheumatism can never be rubbed away, nor can it be conquered and driven from the system until the acid-laden blood has been cleansed and purified. No other medicine does this so effectually as S. S. S. It dissolves and removes the impurities and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which soothes the irritated nerves, inflamed muscles and flesh, and the sufferer obtains relief that is permanent because the real cause of the disease has been removed. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired free.

Able Manager of Fort Wayne Ball Team

JOHN C. HENDRICKS.

John C. Hendricks, better known as Jack, the new leader of the Fort Wayne base ball team, has made a most enviable record since he became identified with the Central league as the head of the old Marion club that landed at Springfield after it had been doing business in Peoria, Ill., for a day or two.

The Marion management closed at Dayton and through being disgruntled released all of the players, but they were snapped up by the organization and reorganized in Fort Wayne by G. W. Bement, then president of the league. Then the remnants went to Peoria and afterward to Springfield.

Hendricks took hold of the club there May 10, 1905, when it had won just one game out of seventeen played up to the time he became the manager. He weeded out the players, put in some new blood, made the men work hard and keep good hours and finished the season in sixth place with a percentage of .500.

The next season he did better and when the games were counted he was right up behind the hand wagon with only one team ahead of him. In 1907 he took the bunting, which is now the rightful property of the Fort Wayne management. Hendricks is thirty-one years old and a native of Chicago and played with New York in 1902, and from there went to Columbus. He was on the Washington team in 1903 and 1904.

He is married and has one child, a boy of eight, who is the official mascot of the club. He is a graduate of the Northwestern university and is a lawyer by profession, but gave up the practice on account of his health. The new manager has proven himself capable and Fort Wayne will like him. He is an Elk and a member of the Knights of Columbus. During the season he will make his home here with his wife and boy.

CARLISLE INDIANS CAN NOT MEET WABASH THANKSGIVING

Have Had Such a Hard Schedule That They Need a Good Rest.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—Harry Eller, graduate manager of the Wabash college football team, has returned to Chicago and reports that all chances for a Wabash-Carlisle game on Thanksgiving day at Washington park have disappeared. Eller went to Chicago Sunday night to confer with the manager of the Carlisle eleven with a view of arranging a game for the Little Giants in this city. He hoped that, as the Indians are already in the west, to play Chicago Saturday, they might consent to wait four days longer and meet the Scarlet.

However, Carlisle's schedule in the last month has been such a hard one that the Indian manager would not consent to playing the Little Giants. Next Saturday the Indians will play Chicago. Last Saturday they met Minnesota, and on the Saturdays before they met Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania. No eleven in the country ever went through such a strenuous season. Three games with members of the East's Big Four and two with the West's Big Nine, form a rather formidable proposition. Eller hopes to be able to bring the Indians or some other great eleven to Indianapolis to meet the Little Giants in 1908.

President John F. Engelke, of the Indianapolis Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, was a member of the large party that went from Indianapolis to Ann Arbor to witness the big Pennsylvania-Michigan game. He returned yesterday and talked of the contest as follows:

"As the score shows it was a great game. Pennsylvania surpassed Michigan in the backfield, but was not superior in the line. The Wolverine line is probably the equal of any that ever represented the maize and blue, but the backfield misses such ground-gainers as Heston and Tom Hammond. Pennsylvania deserves great credit, but her only score was made on an illegal formation, five men playing behind the line of scrimmage. It was because of the same formation that the Quakers were not allowed the count the second time they crossed the Michigan goal line.

"The play that carried the ball over the Penn goal was one of the cleanest-cut and best-executed plays I have ever seen. The objection to Michigan's score was based on the allegation that the ball passed over the line of scrimmage less than five yards from center. The ball was passed by Schulz to Wasmund, who threw to Allerdice, fifteen yards out from center. Allerdice passed it to Magoffin, who had run thirty yards straight forward from center. The captain had a clear field, and easily scored a touchdown. By a little calculation it is seen that the ball could not have passed within ten yards of center. The score should have been 6 to 6, but we abide by the official count, 6 to 0. The east is not playing a decidedly superior game to that put up in the west. Saturday's game was worth going hundreds of miles to see."

CORRIGAN AND GERMAN CLASH.

Turfman Swaps Blows With Emperor's Representative at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 20.—Ed Corrigan, the turfman, master of the old Hawthorne track at Chicago, and owner of Freeland stock farm here, and Dr. Arnold Frank of Berlin, personal representative of Emperor William, had a fight in the lobby of the postoffice here yesterday afternoon. The lie was passed and a blow struck by each. Both men then withdrew.

Corrigan and Frank had just received their mail, when they met in the lobby exactly on the spot where, about twenty years ago, William Cassius Goodloe and A. M. Swope, leading society and business man here, met and cut and shot each other to death. Corrigan and Frank faced each other and Frank said something about a horse he had bought from Corrigan, which had a ringbone, intimating that the horse had had a defect when purchased.

Both exchanged heated words and struck at each other and their letters were scattered in every direction. The spectators ran for a place of safety, but the trouble was over. Both men secured their mail and went their way. Frank has been here some time, buying horses for breeding purposes for the German army, and had purchased a driving horse from Corrigan.

DREAM SENT OUT FROM SOUTH BEND AS THE REAL THING

Dopist Himself Admits He is Only Kidding and Needs the Story.

Out of the admitted pipe dream published in the South Bend Times yesterday and inserted simply and solely because as the writer admits, he had just as well have written that as anything else when he needed a story, comes the information that Aggie Grant, Harry Arndt and Ed Smith want the franchise for next season. The Times story is as follows:

"If the ambitions of Angus Grant could be fully realized and developed there would be no question as to the position of South Bend in the percentage column of the Central League, but at the close of the season of 1908. There is but little probability of their development, but since this is the season when baseball dopists break loose and think all things possible there can be no harm in making public the dream.

"The plan would effect Grant, Harry Arndt and Ed Smith, all South Bend men, and whose reputations in the baseball world are well known. So far as Mr. Arndt is concerned he states that he has not been approached in the matter but admits that he would like nothing better than to play ball in this city. As to Mr. Smith, he has expressed himself as preferring South Bend, while Mr. Grant's position is well defined in the fact that he has remained here in spite of the fact that tempting offers have already been made for him for the coming season, all of which he has refused, notwithstanding that local conditions have far from a promising outlook.

"The plan, which to some looks so good, is to have the South Bend franchise fall into their hands, they to own and manage the team. While this might be possible, it is hardly probable, yet while speculation is rife it may be as well to talk about this as anything else. With three such men as these in control South Bend could be assured the kind of ball that always wins, not only in the percentage column, but at the gates as well. The fans demand a winning team and without it the city might as well be out of the league.

"The possibility of the combination lies in the fact that Arndt could secure his release from his present owners at a comparatively small cost, while Smith is now in a position to make demands upon the American Association, inasmuch as there is a matter of back salary that has not been definitely settled, making it possible under the rules for him to demand his release from the reserve list.

"The probabilities of such an organization are so remote that it is hardly worth while for one to whet the appetite for it, yet it is a known fact that the matter has been given serious consideration by the parties involved, particularly so with Messrs. Grant and Smith. Fortunately the men are able to float the deal and finance it, but naturally some hesitancy arises in a venture that would require the outlay of several thousand dollars with no assurance of success other than the fact that the fans might support a fast baseball team. The probable cost of effecting such an organization is hard to estimate, other than that the franchise will probably be sold for an amount in the neighborhood of $3,300, the present indebtedness of the South Bend Athletic association. In addition to this is would be necessary to spend a great amount of money in securing new players, while more money would have to be used in securing the release of Arndt and Smith.

"The position looks well and would be fine dope for the fans, but what's the use of dreaming?

"It is now almost a certainty that if South Bend is to have a team in the Central League it will not be under the management of the South Bend Athletic association as subscriptions to the sale of additional stock are coming in entirely too slow to be looking cheerful. The committee has now succeeded in running the sale up to about $2,000, but as over twice this amount is needed it is hardly probable that it will be secured and consequently the directors will have to return to their original plan of trying to dispose of the franchise to private parties.

"The announcement made in the Times that there was an abundance of capital floating around that would take up the franchise and keep it in this city brought joy to the hearts of the expectants and gave rise to much speculation as to who was in control of the money. Many inquiries were received from the hopefuls, but no information could be given as none was at hand. The only assurances that can be given is that of a party well up in baseball matters, who stated that such was the case but refused to make known the source from which the money was to be forthcoming. It is to be hoped that the report is well founded, for without its league ball, South Bend would be like Fort Wayne was for over two years, crazy to get back in the fold.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Tom Chivington, vice-president of the Louisville club, has returned to Louisville after a month's trip through the Gulf states. It is probable that Chivington will continue with the Colonels.

"Matty McIntyre will play for Detroit, regardless of what remarks he may or may not have made to New York newspaper men," declared Secretary Navin of the Detroit club. "We are looking out for good men, not letting any go. This talk about giving him for Kleinow is awfully funny. Matty will be with us next year, as far as I know."

Manager Armour of Toledo, has announced that Ernie Diehl, the crack Cincinnati amateur who played such phenomenal ball with Toledo last season, is lost to Toledo. Armour offered Diehl a fabulous salary for next season, but Diehl turned same down and will remain in business in Cincinnati. He was recently elected to the council on the republican ticket.

* * *

Catcher "Ducky" Holmes, formerly of the Indianapolis team, will again be seen in an American association uniform next season, but this time as a Louisville Colonel. He has been bought by the Louisville management from the Canton (O.) Central league team. The Indianapolis management let Holmes go to Canton at the beginning of last season, keeping Catcher Howley in preference. He formerly played with the St. Louis Nationals, coming to this city from the Missouri team. He should have no trouble in holding his job at Louisville, as he is generally regarded of A. A. caliber.

* * *

Announcement has been made that Frank Farrell, political leader and owner of the New York Americans and the Montreal club of the Eastern league, has placed the latter franchise on the market. Farrel's decision is caused by the recent destruction of the stands at Montreal by fire, likewise by the fact that the team finished last in the Eastern league race. This was a bitter disappointment to Farrell, who has expended a large amount of money on the club. Malachy Kittridge, the veteran catcher, proved a complete failure as manager. Farrell, it is said, will sell cheap.

Columbus, with a three-time pennant winning team, is much elated over the fact that the Columbus Baseball company has been able to declare a dividend of 20 per cent on the 1907 series. The Buckeye capital is filled with pride because it is appreciative of its good things and finds much satisfaction in the fact that the national game is properly supported there. In addition to the fact that Columbus teams have won pennants the three last times running, Sunday games are played in that city and they are about the greatest of all factors in the declaration of dividends. Without Sunday baseball and with a second division team the Indianapolis attendance last season was greater than that in Columbus, as the figures show. In Indianapolis a dividend of 10 per cent was declared, and under an agreement among the stockholders additional funds that would have swelled the dividend to 25 per cent were left in the treasury to make improvements at the park for next year. New bleachers built this fall for the big football games at Washington park will be moved back to the present site of the left field bleachers and the old ones will be placed further down, in front of the club house. A passage will be left for the club house entrance. Everything considered, the attendance figures of the Indianapolis club last year were the best in the circuit. Columbus and Toledo were the other big Dogawanas Take Best of Series—Traction Men Get a Couple.

After struggling for six long weeks the Dogawanas of Brunswick League No. 1, finally broke into the games won column last night by taking the measure of the Elks in two of the three engagements with the antlered team. The winners have played eighteen games since the seasoned opened, but up to last night had failed to land a single victory. The scoring was not high and only Burns topped 200 when he rolled 213 in the last game.

Palmer and Boland rolled good scores in the first game of the series between the Victors and the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction teams and managed to take the contest, but the Traction men got all the others. The scores follow:

STEAD HAS A NEW SCHEME.

London Will Try to End Agricultural Ills by New Fertilizer.

London, Nov. 20.—William T. Stead has taken up the role of an agricultural benefactor. The means he has adopted to prosecute his benefactions is the method of bacteriological cultivation of barren land, which is said to be an improvement on that which has been employed for a number of years in the United States.

The originator of this new method is Dr. Bottomley, professor of botany at King's college, London. It is on the strength of his statements that the superiority of his method to the American way is predicted.

Mr. Stead has "made a corner" in Dr. Bottomley's solution, having secured from the scientist the exclusive right to handle [illegible] for twelve months. The American price for a certain quantity of an article said to be inferior to Mr. Stead's is $7. He will sell the same quantity of a better solution for $1.50, half the amount to be paid to Dr. Bottomley and the other half to be spent, or so much of it as may be necessary, in advertising and pushing the sale of the fertilizer.

ONE MORE TRIAL FOR SQUIRES.

Jimmy Coffroth Planning to Send Him Against Flynn or Ward.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Jimmy Coffroth is planning to give Bill Squires one more chance. He intends to reopen the arena at Colma about December 15, and is trying to get Squires to meet either Jim Flynn or Bob Ward. If Squires decides he has had enough of the ring, he will match Ward and Flynn. Squires is believed to be on his way to this city after a sojourn at Hot Springs, Ark.

Coffroth's idea is to get some line on the ability of both Squires and Ward, and, if either can show enough merit to justify it, he will be sent against the winner of the Kaufman-Sullivan bout. Coffroth is also negotiating for a thirty-round contest between Johnny Frayne and Johnny Murphy.

MUCH THANKS.

She sat beside me at the play.
I knew her not at all,
But in a coy and careless way
She let her hatpins fall
Beneath the seat between my feet,
Of course I had to crawl.

And as I handed them to her
(Ah, happy finger touch!)
She said to me, she said, said she,
"Oh, thank you—very much!"

She stood beside me in the car,
And we were strangers quite.
I wasn't going very far,
And so I thought I might
Give up my seat to rest her feet.
(Now, wasn't that polite?)

As from the overhanging strap
She loosed her frantic clutch
She said to me, she said, said she,
"Oh, thank you—very much!"

She passed me on the avenue,
As promenaders pass.
Her dainty kerchief, dotted blue
And airy light as gas,
She dropped behind. I strove to find,
And found it for the lass.

And as I placed it in her hand,
Proraned with gutter smutch,
She said to me, she said, said she,
"Oh, thank you—very much!"

Now, this was not one woman lone,
But these were ladies three.
And many more from zone to zone
Have thus been served by me
And other men who're helpful when
They cannot help but be.

And ever thus we get their thanks
(It surely beats the Dutch).
They always say them this-a-way,
"Oh, thank you—very much!"

I hope some time before I go
To fill a tomb or urn
The ladies may not thank me so—
For thanks I do not yearn.
Yet if they don't, stay dead I won't—
I surely shall return!

I shall return from out the pit,
And haply one may touch
My ghost and say, the same old way,
My ghost and say, the same old way,
"Oh, thank you—very much!"
—Robertus Love in Judge.

Cipher Code.

"So that dining room orchestra plays by instruction, eh?" said the new arrival.

"Oh, yes!" replied the corpulent proprietor. "When I notice a guest sipping hot coffee I signal 'P. L.' That means 'Play loud.'"

"Rather interesting."

"Yes, and then when I see one eating soup with a great deal of noise I signal 'P. V. L.' That means 'Play very loud.'"

"Clever—very clever. Is that all of the code?"

"Oh, no! When a man starts to eat corn off the cob I hurry up and signal 'P. B. L. A. B. T. C.'"

"And what does that mean?"

"Why that means 'Play blamed loud and beat the cymbals.'"—Chicago News.

Just Kids.

"How do you like my new hat, Kitty?"

"Lubley, Minnie, I had one just like it last winter."—New York World.

Incorrigible.

In a certain school of Washington there was one lad who would persist in saying "have went."

One day the teacher "kept him in," saying:

"While I am out of the room you may write 'have gone' fifty times."

When the pedagogue returned he found that the boy had dutifully performed the task, having written "have gone" fifty times. On the other side of the paper, however, was this message from the absent one:

I have went. JOHN WHITE.

The Horrors of Matrimony.

"One of the prominent actresses says nine out of ten marriages turn out unhappily."

"Yes," replied the old bachelor; "if a man marries a woman for her beauty he is likely to find that a good deal of it is counterfeit, and if he takes her for her money the chances are that she will merely give him an allowance."—Chicago Record-Herald.

His Platform as Amended.

"My platform," shouted the orator, bringing his fist down with a resounding thwack on the desk before him, "is 'Leave well enough alone!'"

"Beg pardon," whispered the chairman of the meeting, an eminent Boston citizen, pulling his coattails gently. "'Let well enough alone' is the preferable form."—Bohemian.

The Chances.

"Which would you rather be," asked the ambitious youth, "a great speaker or a great writer?"

"It all depends," answered Mr. Sirius Barker, "on whether you would rather take a chance on getting clergyman's sore throat or writer's cramp."—Washington Star.

Her Wages.

Mistress—Why, Bridget, it seems to me you want very large wages for one who has had so little experience.

Bridget—Sure, mum, ain't it harder for me when I don't know how?—New York Life.

A St. Clair county man has a wolf in captivity and feeds him on cats. The wolf likes chickens, but dotes on cats. Instead of drowning their superfluous kittens the people of that neighborhood save them for the wolf, and he "eats 'em alive."—Kansas City Journal.

REIGNS OWING TO BRIBES.

California Railway Commissioner Gives Up His Office.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 20.—The resignation of Railroad Commissioner Andrew M. Wilson was accepted by Governor Gillett yesterday morning. Wilson was a member of the notorious "boodle" board of supervisors of San Francisco and confessed several times under oath that he had accepted bribes for his vote from the United railroads and other corporations. Until the calling of the special session of the legislature he had refused to resign.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20.—Lower prices for wheat at Liverpool caused weakness in the wheat market here today. December opened ¼@⅝c lower at 93c to 93¾c and for a time held within that range. May opened ⅛@¼c to ⅜@⅝c lower at $1.02 to $1.02⅜, and sold at $1.01⅞. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 373 cars.

The wheat market rallied slightly about noon on buying by shorts. The market for December advanced to 93⅝@93¾c and May to $1.02¾. Prices then declined again on professional profit taking. The market then closed weak with December down ⅝c at 92¾c and May $1.01⅝c.

Corn was firm on buying brought out by unsettled weather in the corn belt. December opened a shade to ⅛@¼c lower at 54½c to 54¾c, and advanced to 55c. May opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 55c to 55⅛c, sold off to 55⅝c and rallied again to 56c. Local receipts were 135 cars.

In corn the close was strong with December up ⅝@¾c at 55⅝c. May was up ⅛@¼c at 56⅛@56¼c.

The weakness of wheat induced considerable selling of May oats which caused a decline in that delivery. Other options were steady. December opened a shade lower at 46½c, sold at 46⅝c and then advanced to 46¾c. May opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 50c to 50@50¼c and sold off to 49⅝@49½c.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 20.—Small losses were more numerous than gains as shown by the first prices of stocks today, but the gains included some of the most prominent market leaders. The postponement of dividend action on Atlantic Coast Line caused a drop of 3½ points in that stock and Louisville & Nashville fell 2. American Smelting declined nearly a point.

American Smelting led a decline after the opening with a loss of 2 points, but the other active stocks did not yield more than ½. Sloss-Sheffield Steel gave way 3⅜, Kansas & Texas 1½ and Erie. Brooklyn Transit and Corn Products preferred 1 point. Pacific Mail gained 1½. A rally before 11 o'clock restored the average of prices to above last night.

Price movements were restricted to a very narrow limit and business was largely in keeping with the fluctuations. Southern Railway preferred declined 1¼.

The rally was extended on dealings that showed some animated and quite substantial gains were established, running to 1¼ points in Reading and American Telephone, 1⅛ in American Sugar and 1 to 1¼ in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Great Northern preferred, Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pacific, St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred, Pennsylvania, the United States Steel stocks, Anaconda, Pullman and Distillers Securities. The market was quiet and fairly steady at noon. Bonds were irregular.

Fresh liquidation in St. Paul and the Erie forced the market back sympathetically but the general market did not sag below yesterday's closing. Louisville & Nashville fell 3⅝, St. Paul and Erie first preferred ¾. National Biscuit preferred sold at a decline of 18 points, but the common stock and American Car hardened.

The market closed irregular. There was an appearance of forced liquidation again in the Southern group of railroads and St. Paul and the whole list weakened.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Nov. 20.—Money on call strong, 6 and 15 per cent; ruling rate, 7 per cent; closing bid, 6 per cent; offered at 10 per cent. Time loans strong and dull; sixty days, 15 per cent; ninety days, 12 to 15 per cent; six months, 8 per cent.

Close—Prime mercantile paper nominally 8 to 10 per cent; sterling exchange strong with actual business in bankers' bills at 486.86@487 for demand and at 478½@479 for sixty day bills. Commercial bills, 478½@479; bar silver, 59¼; Mexican dollars, 47. Government bonds weak; railroad bonds, irregular.

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

WILL DECIDE UPON THE BEST.

Penney's Tests of Engines Will Settle Disputed Question.

Concerning the tests that are being made on the Western division of the Pennsylvania which were mentioned in these columns a week ago, an Associated Press dispatch has the following to say:

"Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—Beginning next week and continuing for at least two weeks the Pennsylvania railroad will conduct the most exhaustive test of locomotives ever made by a railroad company.

"The object is to learn the actual worth of each of the five types of locomotives now in use on the system. The test will be made on the Crestline division of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago and will be in charge of D. F. Crawford, general superintendent of motive power of the Pennsylvania west, assisted by a corps of scientific experts.

"The result of the test, it is expected, will have a far-reaching effect on the future orders of motive power for the entire Pennsylvania system."

ENGINE DELIVERY COMMENCES.

Pennsylvania Yesterday Received the First On Order for Fifty.

According to the Pittsburg Post of today's date the first of fifty monster locomotives ordered some time ago for the Pennsylvania Lines West of Pittsburg was delivered yesterday, and it is expected that from 20 to 25 will be turned out every month. They are of the new H-8-A type, which is the largest locomotive built by the company and weighs 240,000 pounds. The new engine was placed in through service on the main line yesterday afternoon and others will be ready for use the latter part of the week. The order for the 50 locomotives was placed a few months ago and instructions were given to rush this work owing to the heavy traffic and the shortage of motive power.

CAR WHEEL BUSINESS GOOD.

There is no appreciable diminution in the orders for car wheels at the Bass foundry, which indicates that car building and car repairs throughout the country is being pushed along as usual. The Bass foundry has all the business in the way of making wheels that it can handle, with fair prospects that it will continue through the winter. In all of the other departments the ten-hour day prevails and the full complement of workmen is employed though orders have not been coming in as rapidly as they did a few months ago. However, there is work enough on hand at present and the little financial troubles in the country will be settled before they affect the earnings of the Bass employes.

WITHDRAW DEMAND.

A dispatch from Chicago says that Grand Master Hawley, of the Switchmen's Union of North America, announces the statement that the demands of the switchmen for an increase of six cents per hour has been withdrawn, temporarily, at least. Representatives of the union and the management of the western roads have been holding conferences in Chicago for the past week and the withdrawal of the demand was the result of a statement that business on the lines affected would not justify an increase in wages at this time and the switchmen's representatives decided to drop the matter.

WILL TEST EYES OF EMPLOYES.

Notice of the coming to Fort Wayne of Dr. Welsh, the expert oculist and color blind man for the G. R. & I., has been received here. Dr. Welsh will be here next Saturday and Sunday and wants to examine as many of the employes as can call on him on those days.

EYE INJURED BY STEEL.

W. W. Bicknell, of the boiler department of the Pennsylvania round house, had an eye injured yesterday by a piece of steel getting in it. The wound is not serious, but will keep Mr. Bicknell from work a few days.

TRAXLER GOES TO ELKHART.

Machinist E. F. Traxler resigned his position at the Pennsylvania shops this morning and will leave tomorrow for Elkhart, to take a position in the Lake Shore shops.

SUPT. NEEDHAM HERE.

E. F. Needham, superintendent of motive power of the Wabash, arrived in the city this morning and will spend the day here, looking over the situation at the shops.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

H. F. Kilpatrick has taken employment in the Pennsylvania lumber yards.

Don. A. Muirhead, clerk at the Wabash store room, is confined to his home by sickness.

Philip Kline, the lad who was run down by an automobile some time ago is getting along nicely and will soon be well.

J. P. Brennan, a pipefitter at the Pennsylvania shops, mashed a finger yesterday and is taking a lay off for repairs.

Machinists P. Moran and B. Smith, of the Wabash shop, went to Peru this morning to do some special work for the company.

Machinist Al Pressler, of the Bass works, has returned from Peru, where he spent ten days in repairing some steam machinery.

Master Mechanic John J. Muir, of the Bass works, has returned from a business trip to Buffalo in the interest of the company.

Harry McMillan, timekeeper at the Bass works, entered upon his vacation this morning and will be absent from the office about a week.

Pennsylvania shopmen H. C. Horstman, G. W. Shannon, A. C. Fuhrman, H. Wisfeld, L. J. Bliskie and W. S. Slagle are sick and off duty.

The suspension of operations of the big bar mill at the Rolling Mills yesterday has temporarily put about eighty men out of employment.

Last night Nick Wiedner, of the Pennsylvania round house, received news of the death of his uncle, which occurred at Pittsburg yesterday.

John T. Leach, a gang foreman at the Pennsylvania erecting shop, left yesterday for Louisville, Ky., where he will spend a week with friends.

Louis Neurath, foreman of the pipe and tin departments of the Wabash shops, went to Montpelier this morning to supervise some work for the company.

Yard Engineer Will Hurlbut, of the Nickel Plate, has been transferred from a night trick to half night and half day. He has taken a short lay off to rest up.

Mrs. Ed Conway, wife of the night clerk at the Pennsylvania round house, was called to Wooster yesterday by the death of her grandmother.

E. N. Odenbaugh was calling upon his Fort Wayne friends yesterday. He lived in this city two years, but is now located at Mansfield, with territory on the eastern division of the Pennsylvania.

Mrs. H. A. Philley, who has pneumonia, has passed the critical stage of the disease and is rapidly improving. Mr. Philley is chief clerk to Road Foreman of Engines C. R. Colmey, of the Pennsylvania.

Frank Scheid, Pennsylvania round house foreman at Toledo, and his wife arrived here last night and will remain a week the guests of relatives They are stopping at present with Mrs. Stahl, the mother of Mrs. Scheid.

F. J. Aubrey, whose approaching wedding was announced in these columns yesterday, is not a pipefitter at the Pennsylvania shops, but the well known grocer on Thomas street. The reporter was misinformed yesterday.

A. E. Haskell, a construction man in the employ of the Electric works, has returned from Ithica, N. Y., where he spent several days doing some work. Bert Olds, who went there with Mr. Haskell, remained to complete the job.

R. W. Smith, an apprentice in the Wabash boiler shop, was about to enter one of the departments last night when a man threw the door open violently and struck him in the breast, inflicting injuries that will probably lay him up a few days.

Peter Collins will leave the St. Joseph hospital this evening, having greatly improved. He still suffers from the injury to his back and is not strong enough to resume work, but he is making rapid progress in that direction. Mr. Collins was injured while at work in the Nickel Plate yards several weeks ago.

Engineer E. Wood, of the Pennsylvania, fell yesterday and painfully sprained one of his knees. He will be off duty a few days. Engineer F. Simonton, of the same road, has an injured eye; Fireman J. L. Cartwright is prevented from work by the sickness of his wife, and Fireman G. Smith is sick and off duty.

HOLDS COURT BY TELEPHONE.

Justice of Peace at Columbus Fines Prisoner at Madison.

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 20.—Justice of the Peace E. H. Kinney Tuesday afternoon held court over the telephone and fined Albert Layton, of Madison, $11.50 for failing to pay Henry Hiatt a board bill of $6 when he left this city last September. Hiatt filed an affidavit against Layton a short time after the latter's departure and this morning he was found in Madison by the police of that place, who notified the Columbus marshal. Justice Kinney called up Madison and after talking with Layton found him guilty and assessed his fine for the young man's violation of the law. Layton paid the amount to the Madison police, who sent it to the Columbus justice last evening.

BEES FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Delaware Boys Are Catching Bumble Brand for Uncle Sam.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 20.—Boys throughout the state are gathering bumble bees for the department of agriculture at Washington. The department has offered a good prize for bees in large quantities, as they are wanted for shipment to the Philippines, to be used in the cross fertilization of plants. Honey bees are not strong enough for the purpose and there are no bumble bees in the islands.

One Kent county boy has two hives filled with the bees, which he is carefully guarding to prevent their escape before the time comes to ship them to Washington.

ELECTION OF INDIANA ODD FELLOWS NOW COMPLETE

Grand Encampment Finishes Up Its Business in Annual Session.

Indianapolis, Nov. 20.—Robert T. Daniels, of Atlanta, Ga., Georgia's representative of the sovereign grand lodge of the world, addressed the members of the grand encampment, I. O. O. F., yesterday. Mr. Daniels also conducted the installation of officers who had been elected this afternoon.

H. W. Hodson, of Martinsville, was elected on the third ballot to the office which is the first step toward the highest office in the order. He received 306 out of 541 votes, J. S. James, of Linton, being second in the race. The other officers who were installed were:

Grand patriarch, L. C. Helm, of Decatur; grand high priest, H. J. McSheehy, of Logansport grand senior warden, W. H. Tabor, of Terre Haute; grand scribe, W. H. Leedy, of Indianapolis; grand treasurer, J. M. Lang, of Sullivan; grand trustee, S. P. Stroup, of Shelbyville, and the retiring grand patriarch, L. G. Akin, of Indianapolis, who was elected grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge, which meets at Denver, Colo., in 1910.

John B. Cockrum, Indiana's other grand representative, will be candidate for the office of deputy grand sire of the sovereign lodge.

Nominations for Warden.

The following nominations were made for the office of grand junior warden, the election to take place next year: W. I. Hughes, Alexandria; Sam Owens, New Albany; S. J. James, Linton; W. B. Brening, Rockfield; J. R. Andrews, Lawrenceport; Perry Higman, Lafayette; S. O. Sharp, Indianapolis; E. E. Kelsey, Vevay and George W. Long, Shipshewana.

Yesterday afternoon the encampment decided to ask the grand lodge for legislation which will make a change in the management of the Odd Fellows' home at Greensburg, which will admit a representative of the encampment to the board of managers, which now is composed of representatives only of the grand lodge and the Rebekah assembly.

When the season closed a bag containing more than $3,000 in cold cash was brought to the lodge room by J. M. Lang, the treasurer. This money was paid among the patriarchs, who receive pay for attending the meeting and mileage to and from their homes. A banquet was served at the board of trade dining room in the evening and last night the first degree was conferred by the Hartford City lodge, and the third degree by the Lincoln lodge of Indianapolis, was conferred upon candidates at Tomlinson hall.

Reports of Officers.

The morning session of the Grand Encampment of patriarchs was devoted to the reports of officers on the last year's work, including those of Lewis G. Akin, grand patriarch; L. C. Helm, grand high priest; W. H. Leedy, grand scribe; J. M. Lang, grand treasurer; John T. Wallick, George Rogers and Samuel P. Stroup, grand trustees, and Vinton I. Nickey and John B. Cockrum, grand representatives. "Indiana's patriarchal banner still floats at the head of all grand jurisdictions, and peace, harmony and good-will prevail within our borders," said Grand Patriarch Aiken in his report.

In his report, Grand Scribe Leedy suggested that this is the opportune moment for Indiana to suggest John B. Cockrum for deputy grand sire of the sovereign jurisdiction, for which place he has been mentioned by lodges in all parts of the country. Indiana should back him, the grand scribe said. Cockrum was indorsed.

JUDGE HEATON REFUSES TO GIVE COUPLE A DIVORCE

Differences of the Millers Not Sufficient—News of the Courts.

At the conclusion of a hearing that occupied all morning Judge Heaton in the superior court today declined to give Lottie Miller a divorce from Sam Miller because he did not think the evidence sufficient.

The differences of the couple as they were presented are trivial. He is a painter in the Pennsylvania shops and works steadily and the only thing shown against him was that he was seen under the influence of liquor two or three times. The wife berated him for his shortcomings and they could not get along together. There was evidence of family interference in their affairs and Judge Heaton stated that when this is removed and with a little forbearance on the part of the principals they ought to live happily. Miller did not ask for a divorce, but simply resisted the attempt of his wife to get one.

Hassel Demands Damages.

Jacob Hassel has filed a suit in the superior court against the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad company demanding $5,678.72 for the loss of a trunk which he alleges was placed on a train at Kendallville on August 26, of this year, checked for Fort Wayne and lost in transit.

He states that he has built up a large trade in the various towns and cities on jewelers' and opticians' findings and that he carried stock in the trunk to the value of $2,678.72 and that by reason of the loss of his stock in trade his business suffered to the extent of $3,000. Vesey & Vesey are his attorneys.

THE DEATHS.

DOELKER.

William Doelker, 45 years of age, unmarried, and a lifelong resident of Fort Wayne, died at 2 o'clock this morning at Hope hospital from pneumonia after a very brief illness. He was taken to the hospital on Monday evening.

Mr. Doelker was a son of the late Jacob Doelker, who for many years conducted a meat market in Fort Wayne, and was born in this city August 16, 1862. He had been in the employ of the Baltes Supply company, the city crematory and Kruse & Busching, but more recently worked at the Baumgard grocery. His birthplace was on the site of the present New Aveline hotel. Surviving relatives include the mother and two sisters—Mrs. Frank Young, of this city, and Miss Minnie Doelker, of Chicago.

SUITS WITH GINGER IN 'EM

The young man always want a Suit that's full of "Ginger."

We cater to his wants, and he can find here a Suit that will exactly fill his mind's eye.

Couldn't buy an out-of-date, back number Suit or Overcoat here, even if he wanted to.

Our Suits are not only "the style," but they are built by the

BEST ARTISTS IN THE BUSINESS.

Look at "our shoulders," for instance.

Every store claims to have broad shouldered coats, but, save the mark—such shoulders as many of them are.

That's because they don't know how "to do the trick."

Look at the narrow and artistic hand-padded collars and lapels.

Our Suits will show how good tailoring should be done.

Young Man, come and see the good things prepared for you.

MADE HUSBAND SIGN PLEDGE.

If Broken Wife Can Have Him Sent to Island.

New York, Nov. 20.—Magistrate Crane, in Morrisania court, made a new departure which he hopes will have a good effect on at least one husband in particular and many more by force of example, in keeping them sober and from abusing their wives.

Mrs. Mary Runzle had her husband, Joseph Runzle, a cooper, 51 years old, living at 857 Brock avenue, in court on a charge of intoxication and abusing her. He had been served with a warrant, and when he appeared in court there was a "next morning" air of penitence in his whole demeanor and he wanted to make all sorts of promises of reform to the court.

The magistrate, therefore, had one of the clerks prepare a form of pledge, which read:

"I do solemnly promise that I will abstain from all intoxicating liquors during the rest of my married life, and do promise that I will not abuse my wife."

When Runzle had signed this Magistrate Crane passed it over to Mrs. Runzle and told her that would be a suspended sentence on her husband and that if he broke the pledge all she needed to do was to bring the signed document to the magistrate and it would be "to the island for him." Runzle looked funny but maintained a demure silence.

HORSE SHOW DRAWS CROWD.

New York, Nov. 20.—The third day of the horse show opened with an even larger attendance than yesterday. Interest today centered around the rivalry between the Vanderbilt brothers, Alfred and Reginald. As on Monday, Reginald led again yesterday with two firsts, two seconds and a third, while Alfred's one ribbon was a "highly commended" in class 36. The forenoon was devoted to hackney stallions exclusively.

Pea Sausage—Soak dried split peas over night in cold water. In the morning drain and boil in plenty of salted water (a tablespoonful salt to a quart until soft enough to be rubbed through a sieve. When nearly done allow the water to boil off—they should be the consistency of heavy batter after being passed through the sieve. To each pound of cooked peas add an ounce of boiled salt pork, fat and lean chopped fine, and a saltspoonful of pepper. Stuff in sausage, casings to be well dried in a warm oven. Keep in a cool, dry place. To serve: Drop into cold water and bring to a boil for fifteen minutes. A substantial breakfast should be taken on cold mornings, leaving the lighter meal for the middle of the day.

Pear and Barberry Preserve—Now that the barberries have been thoroughly touched with the frost is the time to make preserves and jelly of them. Pick over and wash two quarts of the berries, add water to nearly cover and stew them half an hour; mash well, then turn into a cheesecloth bag to drain out all the juice. Measure the juice and place on to boil, adding a pint of sugar to a pint of liquid, and while boiling skim well, then add a quart of peeled and sliced hard pears and cook till tender, turning over often; skim out into glass jars. Boil down the sirup and strain over the fruit, then seal. A much greater quantity should be made of this delicious preserve if the family is large.

This tremendous big cheese has the appetizing flavor, delicate richness and creamy consistency that distinguishes Crawford Cheese from the common grades. We sell the Crawfords of the ordinary size regularly and they always prove of the same uniform high-grade quality. Crawfords are always soft, smooth, rich—a fine full cream cheese. See it in our window.
